NAZI-ROMANIAN CLASHES DEVELOP

By THURSTON MACAULEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The beginning of the end for Adolf Hitler's domination of central Europe was foreseen today as Romania quit the Axis camp and bloody fighting broke out between Nazi and Romanian troops in the field.

Romania's acceptance of Russian peace terms formed the first crack to appear in the Nazi Balkan bloc and was seen in London as a signal for more withdrawals. Bloodshed widened the gap as Romanian troops obeying the order of their king to cease resistance to Soviet forces were shot down by Nazi security units.

Romanian prisoners taken by the Russians revealed the fighting behind the Nazi lines in Romania and Bessarabia.

Bulgaria Would Quit

Premier Ivan Bagrianov has indicated that Bulgaria is desirous of getting out of the war and the London Times said today that the Bulgarian government has made an official request to Britain's ambassador to Turkey for allied terms.

Although Romania's acceptance of armistice terms has not yet been officially confirmed by any allied government, there is no doubt that the puppet regime of former Premier Marshal Ion Antonescu has indeed fallen.

The German radio today denounced what it called "the small clique of traitors who have put aside Marshal Antonescu" and appealed to the people to obey only the orders of a new puppet "Romanian national government".

It would be a fine thing if the painting program in several downtown sections became epidemic. There are many buildings in the downtown section that could be visibly improved by a fresh coat of paint.

From the indications these last few days it will not be long until a large part of the employed population of the city will be getting up before daylight again, in order to get to work on time. Daylight saving time in the winter period is certainly an un-called for arrangement.

An amusing story comes out of the war, relating to a local family. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sontum's son, Sgt. Edward Sontum, is stationed in India, and had written home for a fountain pen. His mother packed a box for him, and the fountain pen was packed securely on top of a package of goodies, and sent on its way. Sgt. Sontum also gets The News, in order to keep in touch with everything back home. Sometimes the mail is slow getting around to him, and on a recent occasion he received 18 copies of The News at one time. As he was going through them, one dropped a fountain pen. It was not the one his mother sent, but he says he can write with it. The box had not yet arrived according to the latest reports. Just where the pen got inside the newspaper wrapper is not known, but the soldier's wish was answered, anyhow.

Two Robot Bomb Launching Ramps Captured By Allies

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Capture of two Nazi robot bomb launching ramps near the Caen-Falaise road was reported today in a British broadcast.

The report, monitored by NBC, said that one of the ramps was a huge structure destined for launching the V-2 super robot bomb. Neither of the launching sites has been used before British troops took them from Nazi control.

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Aug. 24.—The twin Soviet offensive in Romania smashed ahead today, after knocking Romania out of the war, and seized the Besarabian strongholds of Akkerman and Bender on the Dniester river despite stiff Nazi resistance.

As the Russian Second and Third Ukrainian armies pushed forward from positions 60 miles within Romania, captured Romanians claimed that German security units were shooting down Romanian soldiers who obeyed their king's command and sought to withdraw from the struggle against the Soviet union.

Troops of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky and Gen. Fedor I. Tolbukhin ignored political developments, including Romania's withdrawal, and pressed forward.

Algiers Radio Says Bordeaux Taken By Allies

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(INS)—The Algiers radio said today that the big southwestern French port of Bordeaux had been captured by Allied forces and French patriots. The broadcast was heard by Reuters.

The Germans have reported new Allied landings in the Bordeaux region, but there has been no confirmation of these reports from any Allied source.

Units of the American 3rd Army, pushing southward from Nantes were reported in unconfirmed dispatches to have pushed their way beyond Angouleme to the Bordeaux region. Angouleme is some 65 miles northeast of Bordeaux, center of the French wine country and the temporary capital of France for brief period in 1940.

Bonin Islands Again Bombed

PEARL HARBOR, Aug. 24.—(INS)—American aerial forces in the central Pacific threatened further strikes against tottering Japanese bastions today following disclosure of continued widespread raids.

Pacific fleet headquarters announced that Navy Liberators sank two Japanese cargo vessels and set fire to a third Tuesday in the vicinity of Chichi Jima in the Bonin Islands on the very threshold of the enemy homeland.

Stimson Says Time Is Ripe For Final Smash At Germans

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson declared today that Germany is collapsing on all sides and that the time is ripe for the Allies to muster their strength "for the final blows."

"On every side Germany weakens," Stimson told his news conference. "Now is the time for us to muster all our strength and unity for the final blows."

The American and allied advances in the European war zone have "in practical effect, liberated the bulk of France," Stimson added.

Total American army casualties since the outbreak of war are 261,589 including 48,880 killed, 125,931 wounded, 42,956 missing and 43,822 prisoners, Stimson disclosed.

In the fighting in southern France the secretary reported that preliminary reports to Aug. 20 showed 1,221 Americans killed and missing and 1,754 hospitalized.

Soldier Ballots Being Sent Out

About 6,500 Are Being Mailed From County To Service Men And Women

BALLOTS GOING TO FAR AWAY SECTORS

Into the mails today from the county board of elections is going a lot of mail, important air mail, ballots for the men and women of Lawrence County in service from Normandy to Burma and from Iceland to Brazil. In all some 6,500 ballots will be mailed, almost all of them by tonight.

An examination of the military ballots and the methods taken to get them to the service men and women shows the reason why Pennsylvania's military ballot law has been called the "model law". The ballot and the arrangements are simple but they are complete. The service man or woman gets a ballot that entitles him or her to vote not only for presidential and vice presidential electors, but for the United States Senate, judge of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, Congress, state treasurer, judge of the superior court, state senator, auditor-general and representative in the General Assembly.

Lots of Work

Getting the ballots into the mail has meant a host of work for the chief clerk of the election board, William A. Eakin and his clerical staff. It has meant addressing 6,500 envelopes, putting the ballot, a sheet of instructions and two (Continued on Page Two)

GERMANS SEEK EVACUATION OF LE HAVRE PORT

German Retreat Is Unchecked

By MONTAGUE TAYLOR
(Reuters Correspondent)

ON THE BRITISH FRONT, Normandy, Aug. 24.—A senior British staff officer told me today that "the Germans still are retreating as fast as they can go."

"I do not think they will make a stand on the Seine," he said. "The general picture for us is very satisfactory. The situation for the German administration is pretty chaotic."

Fully realizing their desperate plight, the German command is making the semblance of a stand along the river Touques to give some cover to the reeling columns that are making a confused and hurried flight to the northeast.

With British troops advancing in such a surge south and southeast of Lisieux, no definite news of their innumerable thrusts is available. The only thing that is certain is that the troops are chasing the Germans just as fast as they did yesterday.

Fall Of Toulon Near, Despite Nazi Defense

ALLIES ADVANCE FROM MARSEILLE

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

ROME, Aug. 24.—Bitter street fighting raged in the streets of the great naval base of Toulon today as desperate Nazi defenders battled French forces which hold the greater part of the city.

The fall of Toulon appeared imminent, but the Nazi garrison struggled grimly to hold off the forces of liberation.

French units sweeping towards the Rhone Valley from captured Marseille punched 27 miles north and west of France's second city to seize the communications center of Salon.

American units expanding the Allied hold on the Durane River Valley drove further west against German delaying tactics.

Bulgaria Now Asking Terms Says Report

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(INS)—The Bulgarian government has officially asked the British ambassador in Turkey "for conditions determined by the Allies which would permit Bulgaria to cease participating in the war," the British radio said this morning, quoting the diplomatic correspondent of the London Times.

Meanwhile, a Swiss press dispatch, reported by the CBS correspondent in Bern, said today that Bulgarian Premier Ivan Bagrianov has formally broken off diplomatic relations with Germany.

An Ankara report broadcast by the British radio and heard by U. S. government monitors said that Romania's decision to break with the Reich was followed by "new talks in the Turkish capital between the Bulgarian envoys and Allied representatives."

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Aug. 24.

American forces smashing 15 miles down the west bank of the Seine river have captured the town of Elbeuf, 25 miles from the river's mouth, and are closing a death trap on remnants of the German 7th Army, Allied headquarters announced today.

Simultaneously armored spearheads of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr.'s 3rd U. S. Army have struck southeast of liberated Paris to within 150 miles of the German border as the main body of American forces behind them established a 50-mile front along the Seine and Loing rivers.

Freight Cars Packed With Supplies For Army Overseas Reported Tied Up

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—The army was reported ready to move into Philadelphia today to break up a traffic jam of unloaded freight cars packed with supplies for troops overseas.

The War Manpower Commission charged that the critical situation has been developing for three weeks because 20 stevedoring companies have been pirating unloaders for work aboard ships at premium wages.

Claude O. Lanciano, regional WMC attorney, issued an ultimatum to the stevedoring companies accused of hiring the workers without referrals to release the men within 48 hours or face drastic wartime sanctions.

Romania Will Aid Allies In Battling Nazis

Turmoil Is Reported As Spreading Rapidly Through Balkan Area

ROMANIANS AND GERMANS CLASH

By J. LYNN LEONARD
(U. S. Foreign Writer)

The Balkan bloc established by Adolf Hitler to guard southeastern approaches to the heart of the Third Reich was on the brink of complete collapse today.

After Romania bled to the Russians to come forward by agreeing to cease hostilities and pledging to fight the Germans, tiny Bulgaria speeded negotiations to withdraw from the conflict and Hungary appeared ready to leave the fold. The swift-moving events presaging early liberation of southeastern Europe also may provide the necessary impetus for the Finns to make an exit as an Ally of Germany.

Turmoil was reported spreading throughout the Balkans, with the Romanians giving battle to former brothers in arms. The Germans, after Romania's war premier and Dictator Marshal Ion Antonescu fled from the country, sought at the last minute to have a puppet national Romanian group continue the fight against the Allies.

Bulgaria Seeks Peace

The army of Bulgaria was reported to have started a slow withdrawal from territory which had been seized from Yugoslavia while Bulgarian representatives were said to be engaged in final negotiations in the capital of Turkey to arrange a peace.

Stockholm reports said meanwhile that the secretary of the Finnish foreign minister had arrived in the Swedish capital to confer with the Soviet envoy, Madame Kollontay, on new peace terms.

Old Timers To Meet Next Week

Annual Reunion At Cascade Park Expected To Attract Many From Local District

PROGRAM SAME AS IN PAST YEARS

Next Wednesday, August 30, will be Old Timers Day, and in spite of war time restrictions, a good attendance is indicated.

The program will be the same as has been followed in past years, with assembly in the dancing pavilion at 1:30 o'clock, followed by a brief program of speaking and announcements after which will come the Grand March, accompanied by Emery's orchestra, who will play those old time tunes which the Old Timers are accustomed to. They will also furnish the music for the round and square dancing to follow this.

Then there will be the usual opportunity for enjoying the fellowship of meeting friends of bygone years who will be present for this one opportunity of the year to greet those acquaintances of their younger days here in New Castle.

The committee in charge, in spite of a late start, is working hard for the success of the reunion and expect a great many will attend, particularly from the New Castle district.

Report Nazi-Romanian Clash

Meanwhile, Moscow reports said that shooting had broken out between the retreating Romanians and Germans at several points and it was clear that such opposition as was being furnished against the Soviet drive into Romania was being put up by the Nazis themselves.

Captured Romanian prisoners were quoted by the Moscow radio as saying that the Nazis were attempting to bar the retreat of the Romanian army and that large parties of Romanian officers and men had been killed.

A Swiss radio broadcast said that Antonescu himself had fled to Germany.

The Bucharest radio early today said that the new Romanian cabinet, headed by Gen. Constantin Sinescu, a former aide de camp of King Michael, includes representatives of the national peasant, liberal, communist and social democratic parties.

The broadcast, heard by Reuters, said the new cabinet has already issued a decree granting an amnesty for political crimes committed since 1918, except for certain cases, such as assassination, and closing all concentration camps for political prisoners.

Laymen Speak

For the laity John J. Maher and Guy J. Wadlinger spoke. Mr. Maher recounted the work of Rev. Watterson when he first came here, of his desire to improve the work of the church and of the pleasure of his friends here in seeing him given a pastorate of his own. In conclusion Mr. Maher presented Rev. Watterson with a large check.

Mr. Wadlinger told of the cordial relations between Rev. Watterson and the congregation of St. Mary's. These cordial relations extended beyond the confines of St. Mary's. Mr. Wadlinger said and he prophesied that in his new charge he would be equally as successful as he has been here.

Two of the girls of St. Mary's were heard in songs, Misses Mary Jones and Frances Morrissey, with Miss Dolores O'Leary at the piano. Larry Hart delighted with two piano solos.

Rev. Watterson leaves New Castle with the good wishes of the citizenry. The testimonial Wednesday night was an indication of his popularity in the church he has served.

The developments were revealed following an emergency meeting of manpower officials, and representatives of six of the city's largest stevedoring concerns, the International Longshoremen's Association, AFL, the army, the coast guard and the War Shipping Administration.

The army, which made the official protest to the WMC, declared that it had been unable to receive delivery aboard ship of some of the most essential war goods needed by the armed forces overseas.

Lanciano said the unloaders working for private concerns and railroads receiving 85 cents an hour were hired by the stevedoring concerns for as high as $3.50 an hour.

U. S. FORCES ARE SMASHING AHEAD THROUGH FRANCE

Rouen escape route across the Seine and turning north, flank of enemy forces in this region.

A headquarters spokesman pointed out that the capture of Elbeuf leaves the Germans only five main crossings over the Seine, plus a number of subsidiary crossings toward the sea and the German-held port of Le Havre on the northern side of the Seine estuary.

Allied occupation forces, meanwhile, were reported driving toward Paris itself, but headquarters said there was confirmation of front dispatches that the Second French Armored division had already entered the capital, which had been freed by French forces of the interior, aided by the civilian population.

Strong Resistance

Strong German resistance has temporarily halted the Allies in the Pont L'Eveque-Lisieux area, where British, Canadian, Belgian and Dutch forces were striking toward the southern shore of the Seine estuary.

Allied forces in this region are under heavy enemy fire and are encountering dug-in tanks, anti-tank screens and a considerable number of mines.

Good progress has been made in the Laigle-Livarot sector of the southwest corner of the trap being forged around remaining Nazi forces southwest of the Seine between Paris and the channel.

Yank columns pressing beyond Evreux, 42 miles northwest of the capital, reached Le Neubourg, and the vicinity of Brionne, 21 miles northwest of Evreux, and are gaining steadily.

Southeast of Paris, the establishment of two bridgeheads north and east of Fontainebleau gave the Allies a total of three major bridgeheads across the Seine, although Fontainebleau itself has not yet been completely cleared of the enemy.

Heavy local fighting was reported along the Loire river east of Montargis, 55 miles southeast of Paris.

Nearing Troyes

Reconnaissance elements advancing southeast of Sens were reported less than 20 miles from the important road junction of Troyes, on the Seine river.

Other Yank columns driving southeast of Paris have reached the vicinity of Corbeil and Melun, respectively 11 and 19 miles beyond the capital.

The enveloping drive toward the lower Seine, in which Allied forces are expected to complete the liquidation of the battered remnants of the German Seventh Army, as well as part of the German Fifteenth Army, continued apace, although the communiqué shed little light on its progress.

American columns striking northward along the Seine threatened to cut off the Nazis' remaining retreat roads.

Evreux Captured

Headquarters confirmed the capture of Evreux, 42 miles northwest of Paris, and an advance of several miles beyond the town.

(A British radio broadcast heard by NBC said the Allies have driven seven miles beyond Evreux against slight German resistance.)

At the northern wing of the rapidly expanding French battlefront, French patriots sprang into action when British and Belgian troops entered the seashore resort of Deauville and drove on to within sight of the great port of Le Havre at the mouth of the Seine.

Enemy resistance remains stubborn in the Pont L'Eveque area and British and Canadian forces crossing the Orbec river between Pont L'Eveque and Lisieux are encountering heavy mortar fire.

American forces pushing northward toward the Lisieux sector have reached Conches, about 10 miles southwest of Evreux in a five-mile advance.

Other Yank forces thrusting northeast of Orbec in a drive toward the Seine and the big road and rail junction of Rouen have reached Thiberville.

Fighting continues in the Lisieux sector where, the communiqué said, the enemy has taken up strong positions dominating the eastern exit of Lisieux.

FRENCH APPEAL FOR ALLIED AID TO HOLD PARIS

spared when the Germans entered on June 14, 1940, after the city was declared an open city.

Call For Allied Aid

"The French called on the Allies for help which is being furnished," the headquarters spokesman said. "When troops get into Paris supreme headquarters will make an announcement."

The spokesman said that a radio story by the Columbia Broadcasting System, correspondent, Charles Collierwood, about Paris saying the French Second Armored division had entered Paris yesterday after Parisians had beaten down the Germans garrisoning the city, was neither submitted to nor passed by supreme headquarters censorship.

Columbia said the dispatch was cabled to London and broadcast from there.

Headquarters said that French forces have some control in some section of the city but emphasized that units of the regular Allied armies are not in the French capital.

Supreme headquarters does not regard Paris as having been liberated as yet, the spokesman said. He went on to explain that from the broad viewpoint of the Allied campaign in France the liberation of Paris is not a major objective. The prime objective remains the annihilation of the Germans, he added.

SOLDIER BALLOTS BEING SENT OUT

other envelopes inside the addressed envelopes and then mailing them. The mail goes free.

The technique of the ballot mailing is this: An unsealed envelope marked "Official Military Ballot" and a large envelope addressed to the election board for return mail is put into the envelope. Upon the back of the larger envelope is an oath which must be notarized by a commissioned officer in the unit in which the service man or woman is located. Accompanying the ballot is a sheet of instructions which gives the military voter all the information necessary to filling out the ballot.

Send Vote In

When the service man or woman gets the ballot he or she can vote immediately. For example if Private Joe Doe, located in Texas or France or Salpan gets his ballot within the next two weeks, he can vote immediately and mail it back to the Lawrence County Election Board. The board will then put the sealed ballot aside along with the others that come in. The envelope containing the ballot must have a post mark not later than August 7th. This is ample time for all the ballots go forward to the service men and women by air mail and should be received within the next month at the outside.

On November 22 the official return board will divide the sealed envelopes into the precincts which are shown on the outside of the return envelope. The envelopes will then be opened and thrown away, leaving the sealed envelope which contains the ballot. The ballots will then be opened and none of the board members will know whose votes they are counting.

The Pennsylvania system of getting ballots to the men and women in service is expensive but it seems as sure as human efficiency can make it. The Lawrence County Election Board has already sent in to the secretary of the Commonwealth a bill showing the county's expenses thus far. They total $2612.15. Of this, $1835.90 was for election official service, $683 was for rent and $93.25 was for incidental expenses of military ballot registration day.

The three envelopes and instruction sheet cost 3¢ each, per set and the ballots cost $140. When the ballots are returned and counted the state will reimburse the county thirty cents each for each of the ballots returned.

Stationery for nearly nine million tributed and post cards was distributed in United Service Organization clubs to members of the armed forces during a single month in the continental United States. USO headquarters announced in its latest monthly tabulation.

FALL OF TOULON NEAR, DESPITE NAZI DEFENSE

forces drove on Lyon where an estimated 35,000 French Patriots had all but surrounded the city.)

A joint Franco-American sweep to the western shores of the Etang de Berre, a large, landlocked body of water west of Marseille, blocked the retreat route of Nazi forces in Marseille, and sealed the fate of that great port.

The count of prisoners taken at Marseille is still incomplete, but it was officially reported that "large numbers" of Germans were seized.

Hold 8000 Square Miles

The new drives of French and American columns increased the area of the Allied bridgehead in Southern France to an estimated 6,000 to 8,000 square miles.

Another island off the French coast fell into Allied hands when the Nazi garrison of Por Querrolles south, off the Gien Peninsula south of Hyeres, surrendered to a United States cruiser.

Two hundred prisoners were taken, and a French garrison took over the island.

Along the entire front of the rapidly expanding bridgehead, Nazi resistance has been confined to delaying tactics carried out by small German units thrown piecemeal into the struggle.

Aggressive Allied troops displaying magnificent teamwork swiftly destroy or capture the German elements and proceed with their methodical liberation of Southern France.

Forces May Join

(Radio France, from Algiers, reported that a liaison between French forces of the interior and American troops near Lyon was imminent. The broadcast reported American forward elements within 51 miles of that great French industrial city.)

The extent to which Nazi demoralization has damaged the port facilities of Marseille was not known today.

(A British broadcast monitored by NBC reported however that life in Marseille was rapidly returning to normal with electricity and water service restored.)

(Scattered Allied reports from Europe called the fall of Toulon imminent, and the clandestine German Radio Atlantic reported that the naval base had already fallen.)

(The British radio said that "factual" Nazis were continuing to hold out in the dock area of Toulon, using heavy coastal guns and anti-aircraft guns from concrete emplacements covering the naval base. This report said that French troops were steadily closing in on the Nazi positions.)

RUSSIAN FORCES PUSH OFFENSIVE INTO ROMANIA

drawal from the war, to smash into Vasilui, only 140 miles north of the Ploesti oil region and to advance 165 miles from the Romanian capital of Bucharest.

Despite the armistice with Romania, thousands of Nazi troops in the country continued resistance to the Russian attacks and strove to prevent Romanian units from quitting the fight.

Further north, Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian army lance forward through southern Poland to capture the industrial and communications center of Debica on the road to Krakow. Debica lies some 64 miles from the bastion of Krakow, Zarowka, some 10 miles northwest of Debica also fell to Russian forces.

Extend Warsaw Drive

Northeast of Warsaw, Soviet fighters thrust forward in their new drive to free the Polish capital and seized positions less than eight miles from Lomza, German stronghold near the East Prussian border. This attack liberated over 80 towns and villages.

Repeated German counterattacks against Russian elements in the Warsaw suburb of Praga were hurled back, as they have been for many days, and German losses in the action were described as heavy.

Other German counter attacks were repelled by Russian forces in Latvia.

(The German radio reported that Russian armies had reached the beaches of Riga. There was no Russian confirmation of the Nazi broadcast, which, if true, would mean that Nazi troops in the Baltic states were even more hopelessly isolated from the Reich than they were.)

With action flaring along the eastern front from the Baltic to the Black Sea, the offensives in Romania and Bessarabia took the spotlight as Russian armies forced an Axis partner from the war and menaced region supplying huge quantities of oil and food to the Nazi war machine.

STIMSON SAYS TIME IS RIPE FOR FINAL SMASH AT GERMANS

Italy through Aug. 7 were placed at 7,035 killed, 54,377 wounded and 20,411 missing for a grand total of 91,823.

More crushing blows were predicted by Stimson against the German armies in western France.

"While the German seventh army is being crippled or crushed in a series of traps on the northern French coast, the speeding columns of Gen. Patton in the northern interior of France and of Gen. Patch in southern France have so cut enemy communications and divided enemy forces as to give assurance that the Germans can attempt to stand only in the north of France in the vicinity of the last world war battle lines," Stimson said.

In southern and western France, enemy centers of resistance, in some of which the Nazis fight bitterly, will be as isolated as the Japanese in the eastern Marshalls or New Britain," he added.

Major Victory

"The battle of Normandy has been a major victory," Stimson said. "enemy killed, wounded and missing have exceeded 300,000. This number will probably be largely increased before the battle area has shifted to the north of the Seine."

The secretary recalled that on Aug. 13, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told his forces they had created a fleeting but definite opportunity for a major victory.

Stimson then commented: "It may now be said that that tween Romanian and German troops was reported to the Soviets by Romanian prisoners taken by the Red army in a continuing drive forward through Romania.

The Russians were pressing deeper toward Bucharest and the Ploesti oil fields from positions won 60 miles inside Romania. At Vasilui, the Red army was only 140 miles from the Ploesti oil region and 165 miles from Bucharest.

COUNTY FEDERATION BOARD HAS MEETING

Lawrence County Federation of Women's clubs board in executive session at the Y. W. C. A. on Wednesday afternoon discussed the program for the coming year, approved the budget and heard plans for the state southwestern district meeting that will take place in Pittsburgh on September 21. Mrs. Lucien C. Black presided.

It was decided that the county federation meeting to be held in New Castle on October 17 will be an all-day meeting. The Current Events Class '06 has been asked to act as hostess group for this meeting. The program committee is in charge of arrangements.

At the district meeting in Pittsburgh on September 21, for which the Lawrence county federation will act as the hostess chapter, reservations are in charge of Woman's club with Mrs. Alvah Shumaker chairman. Elwood Woman's club will be in charge of registrations. Mrs. H. S. Gold chairman, Bessemer Woman's club will have charge of hostess identification, with the music department of federation in charge of music, and the conservation-gardens department in charge of decorations.

Mrs. Black urged that department chairmen meet as soon as possible. Clubs which have not recently revised their by-laws were urged to consider such revision.

Doris Barnett To Wed

Of interest locally is the engagement news of a prominently known young girl, Miss Doris Barnett, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Barnett, Sherman avenue, Grand Rapids, Mich., and Lieut. Murray McColl Dewar, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Murray McColl Dewar, Frederick Court, Grand Rapids, Michigan.

The bride-elect has a host of friends in this vicinity having visited frequently with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Patterson of Hillcrest avenue, also her aunts, Mrs. Raymond Horcher of Clayton street, Mrs. Fred Horcher of Norwood avenue, Mrs. Irene Campbell of Elizabeth street and Mrs. John B. London of Northview avenue.

Miss Barnett and Lieut. Dewar are both graduates of East Grand Rapids High School in Michigan, and attended Western-Michigan College at Kalamazoo, Michigan.

The prospective bridegroom is at present stationed at Delan, Fla., with the United States Army Air Corps.

No date has been set for the wedding.

B. A. Club Party

Mrs. Anthony Colaluca of Duquesne street, was hostess to B. A. club members on a recent evening, when the group tendered her a housewarming party. The honoree was presented with a handsome gift to use in her new residence.

Tables of 500 were in play, prizes going to Mrs. Anthony Marino, Mrs. Sam Tomasello and Mrs. Anthony Pla, Jr. Lunch was a later pleasure, served by the hostess.

Mrs. Sam Tomasello invited the membership to her home on East Maine street, August 31.

Auto Driving Course To Aid Men At Deshon

As an addition to the training equipment at the Deshon general hospital annex in Cunningham park, a driving course for training in automobile drivers will be installed in a few days under the supervision of the Department of Revenue.

Arthur Lewis and Leroy Edwards, representing the department, have spent the past two days in New Castle making the arrangements and the installation will probably be made on Tuesday, August 29.

The idea of the driving course is not altogether to train drivers. It will serve to condition arms and legs that have been impaired in battle and will also aid in training in mental reactions.

Near Ball Grounds
The driving course will be on the far end of the large level tract of land upon which the baseball field is located. The edge of the driving course will be nearly 400 feet from home plate which means there will be no interference one with the other. A roadway running around the field will serve as an outside highway upon which driving will be taught and inside there will be a curved layout in which a huge figure "8" will be laid out for practice in negotiating curves.

Highway signs will be installed along the route "stop" signs, intersection signs, directional signs and the like. A parking space will be laid out to instruct drivers in proper parking. All phases of automotive use will be taught.

It is possible that when the course is ready for use it will be formally opened with a number of visiting officers present.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

but will have achieved a very great influence in the government of the United States. That such is the prospect will be strongly denied because frank acknowledgment would sit very badly, indeed, upon the collective stomach of the American people. Yet, the Communists, the CIO leaders and the Administration strategists individually and collectively know these assertions to be true. Nor will they be doubted by anyone who does not deliberately shove realities aside.

TODAY, the cold truth is that there is not a Communist in the country who is not lined up behind Mrs. Roosevelt. But, that is not the whole story. The Communists, in mass, have calculatedly moved into the Democratic party with the purpose of taking it over. No one who reads of Communist literature in this country can possibly deny the truth of this statement. Inside the Democratic party, into which they have moved, these Communists do not operate as Democrats but as Communists. They maintain, inside the Democratic camp, their Communist solidarity, discipline, spirit and purpose. They take their orders and their instructions, not from the Democratic National Committee, but from the Daily Worker, the Communist organ. In brief, though for campaign purposes this year, they now call themselves Democrats; for their own purposes, they remain Communists, as always.

THIS IS made crystal clear in the "special election supplement" of the Daily Worker, issued about a month ago and now in the hands of every Communist in the country. This supplement is worth the perusal of every American citizen. Though nowhere in this remarkable document is the word Communist used, it establishes fully the truth of the charge that the Communists have gone into the Democratic party with the idea of taking it over. Detailed instructions are given to the members as to their conduct during the campaign. "The Democratic party," they are told, "is not yet, as a whole, a people's party. It is a bourgeois party—albeit, a liberal bourgeois party." The clear inference is, that given time, this "liberal-bourgeois party" will become wholly a party of the proletarians, and there follow minute instructions to the Communist members, now enrolled and registered as Democrats, as to how to bring this about.

THEY ARE told of the great desirability of becoming precinct captains with the Democratic organization, of the importance of capturing the "shop stewards" for practical political purposes; of how to organize the women in trade union circles into Democratic circles and, particularly, of the necessity of turning the Negro vote, which, it is declared, easily may be decisive in Middle Western and Eastern States and which is now somewhat unaffected because of the Democratic platform. Two things are heavily emphasized in this "special election supplement." One is that everything about the Republican party is reactionary and wicked, but its particular wickedness is that it is not in accord with the "Teheran agreement." The other is that the "Teheran agreement" is vitally connected with the Roosevelt reelection.

THOUGH the "Teheran agreement" is mentioned a dozen times in this document, nowhere is there any elucidation as to what the "Teheran agreement" really is. One cannot help but gather from the constant reiteration that, beyond any agreement made public after the conference, there was some "Teheran agreement" between the Messrs. Stalin and Roosevelt, with Mr. Churchill unenthusiastically acquiescing, that makes the reelection of Mr. Roosevelt, from the Stalin angle and thus for the American Communists, now turned Democrats, very important indeed. And that the Republicans are not in accord with this "Teheran agreement." None of this makes Mr. Roosevelt exactly a Communist, but the facts ought to be interesting reading for independent voters, if any, nevertheless.

Governor Martin Not Concerned On Straw Votes

HARRISBURG, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin appeared unconcerned today over reports that a straw vote indicated 52 per cent of Pennsylvania's voters favored President Roosevelt for a fourth term.

"At this time in 1928," the governor stated, "Al Smith had Pennsylvania in his column and the Republicans carried the state for the entire ticket in November by 1,000,000 votes."

"There isn't any question about Pennsylvania being in the Republican column in 1944," he declared.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

When a request is made of the child let his response be as if it had been made of an adult guest—about the hardest task a parent can set for himself.

Immediate Spanking
For the young child all punishments, to be effective, must immediately follow the dangerous or wrong act and there must be no exceptions. What he was punished for once, he must be punished for always, unless he is frankly told the punishment had been a mistake and asked forgiveness.

As soon as the child learns without doubt the meaning of No, physical punishment (spanking) can well be abandoned, when assignment to a certain place to do nothing, such as sitting in a chair for exactly 15 minutes, can be effectively substituted. This should be accomplished before the child is four or five years old.

One of the strongest arguments for selective and thoughtful spanking of the young child is that he may escape whippings and all other sorts of physical punishments later; may also escape the tortures of his parents' scolding—besides learning the alphabet of good citizenship.

Jobless Benefits Will Probably Be Left With States

House Committee Prepares To Report On Senate-Approved Demobilization Bill

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Attempts to liberalize the senate-approved George postwar demobilization bill were marked by failure today as the house ways and means committee prepared to report out a revised measure leaving the question of jobless benefits to the states. Rep. John D. Dingell (D) Mich., said he would make one more attempt to have the committee write into the measure a national standard of unemployment compensation of $20 maximum per week for jobless war workers, but there appeared little chance that the committee would adopt it.

The 25-member group, which has been wrestling with the senate measure for more than a week, tentatively approved it late yesterday, and Rep. Doughton, (D) N. C., committee chairman, said he hoped to report it out so it would be debated by the house Monday.

The committee amended the George bill still further by providing for grants rather than loans to municipalities and states to induce them to prepare plans for postwar public works.

An effort to induce the committee to reconsider its previous action in striking from the George bill unemployment compensation coverage for three and a half million federal employees proved unsuccessful.

The committee rejected a motion to include some two million federal workers in arsenals and shipyards under state jobless insurance systems.

As now revised, the bill includes the draft of the house postwar policy committee establishing an overall office of war mobilization and reconversion to handle the transition from war to peace in place of the George provision. The chief change is the deletion by the house committee of a provision for a house-senate committee to act as a liaison group between the mobilization director and congress.

Bonnie Edwards Is Granted Divorce

Tells Judge, Champagne For Breakfast And Husband's Getting Soused, Too Much

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Champagne for breakfast was too much for Actress Bonnie Edwards, who today had a divorce from Al-gernon K. Barbee, bottling company owner, by testifying her wealthy husband tried to force her to drink the beverage after she had just arisen.

Miss Edwards, who was the fifth wife of Asbestos Heir Tommy Manville, testified in superior court that "my husband embarrassed me in front of our friends."

"Whenever we went to a night club he would get intoxicated and argue with the waiters, and then go to the bar and stay through drinks," she said.

A property settlement was filed by her attorney by which Barbee allowed the actress to keep $70,000 worth of jewelry and stocks he had given her.

Small Nations Are Doubtful

Fear "Big Four" Will Fail To Give Smaller Nations Proper Place

DULLES CONTINUES TALKS WITH HULL

By LEON PEARSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Two Latin-American ambassadors expected today that the international security organization being drawn up by the "big four" will fail to give smaller countries their proper place in the family of nations.

This view was especially significant because it came from diplomats whose countries are members of the United States cooperating with the United States Ambassador Francisco Castillo Najera of Mexico and Ambassador Aurelio Conchoso of Cuba.

The Cuban ambassador, referring to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's statement of the same principle, exclaimed candidly:

"I say thank God for Dewey." This development came on the heels of the visit to the State department of John Foster Dulles, Dewey's foreign affairs advisor, to express to Secretary Hull his and Dewey's fears that small nations were being crowded into the corner.

To Continue Talks

Dulles announced his talks with Hull would continue today. Conchoso emphasized that the organization being formed at Dumbarton Oaks cannot be democratic so long as it is dominated by the four powers—Great Britain, Russia, United States and China.

Conchoso praised Secretary Hull, however, as "the apostle of equality and sovereignty of nations," and expressed the hope that Hull would not forget this philosophy in forming the security organization.

Even more striking than the statements of the Cuban ambassador were those of the Mexican envoy, Ambassador Najera, who has served as his country's representative at the League of Nations, and is an expert on international relations.

Mexican View

The Mexican ambassador said: "The outline of the new organization is almost identical with the old League of Nations. The only differences in the new plan are to its disadvantage."

He pointed out that the council of the league consisted of seven members, whereas the council of the new organization will be dominated by the "big four." Though a few other countries will be allowed to serve only one year, said the ambassador, "this becomes merely a gesture of courtesy, and these countries will have no sustained interest."

The plans already outlined for use of force to suppress aggression were described by the Mexican ambassador as unsuitable in most cases. He objected to the use of separate armies of the "big four" countries, each in its own sphere of influence.

Taking a specific case, such as conflict between two South American countries, the ambassador predicted that since the other free powers would not be concerned, responsibility would fall to the United States. And it would create an embarrassing and intolerable situation if the United States sent an armed force to South America.

JAPANESE USING WOODEN BULLETS

In Order To Protect Own Troops Japs Use Wooden Bullets In Attacking Americans

The following dispatch, distributed by International News Service, was written by Sergeant John B. T. Campbell, Jr., of Los Angeles, Cal., a Marine Corps combat correspondent, formerly of the Los Angeles Herald and Express.

TINIAN, Marianas Islands—(Delayed)—Two Japs with a light machine gun apiece sprayed a group of fourth division marines with wooden bullets yesterday, according to First Lieutenant Byard E. Sooy, Jr., of Egg Harbor City, N. J., who was attached to the unit involved.

The Japs were equipped with wooden bullets because much of their fire was toward their own lines and steel bullets would have carried into them, perhaps hitting other Japs. The wood missiles, being lighter, have a comparatively short range.

Left behind in a cane field, the Japs opened fire on marine reserve units marching toward the front lines and inflicted many casualties. The wooden bullets sometimes inflicted worse wounds than steel, because they have a tendency to break up on impact.

Belts of the unusual ammunition were found by marines, including Lieut. Sooy, who dispatched the Japs.

Lions Club Has Annual Corn Roast At Ramblers Rest

Rain Fails To Interfere With Annual Gathering Along Slippery Rock Wednesday Night

New Castle Lions club members had their annual corn roast at Ramblers Rest, along the Slippery Rock, east of Harrisburg, Wednesday evening, and in spite of the rain early in the evening, an enjoyable time was had by the club members and their families. There were 135 present.

A splendid meal of corn, hot dogs and ice cream was served, following which a sports program was carried out, with different events for all ages, prizes being given the winners.

The committee in charge of the successful event was composed of Tom Fletcher, chairman, Harvey B. Bush, Ed. Leary, Willard Belknap, William Voorhis, George Wagner, Charles Lumley, Gerald B. Pouse, Glenn Bell, James E. Homan and Charles Bashew.

The Caspian Sea, covering 169,000 square miles, is the world's largest inland sea.

Senator George Says Lend-Lease Ends With War

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
U.S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga., co-author of the original Lend-Lease Act, said today that lend-lease must stop with end of the war under terms of the law despite reports that Great Britain, Russia and other nations would seek such American aid in peace time.

"The whole concept of lend-lease was to provide this country with a defense against an impending war," said George. "It was not intended for purposes of rehabilitation."

President Roosevelt's latest report on lend-lease, showing that it has risen to the huge total of twenty-eight billion 270 million dollars, aroused widespread interest in Congress.

Mr. Roosevelt said lend-lease must be continued until the unconditional surrender of both Japan and Germany. One question widely discussed was whether lend-lease would be continued to Russia after Germany's defeat, if she failed to join in fighting Japan.

Basic Theory

"The basic theory of lend-lease is military, not 'rehabilitation,'" George said. "I do not think lend-lease would be continued to Russia after Germany's defeat, unless the president deemed it necessary as part of the defense of this country such as preventing giving aid to Japan in delivery of certain materials."

Lend-lease appropriations, he said, can be cut 30 percent when Germany is whipped.

Sen. Kenneth McKellar (D-Tenn., acting chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said the president's letter on lend-lease "is just a general statement and there is nothing in it to suggest use of lend-lease after the war."

Sen. Warren Austin (R-Vt., said there may be pressure for lend-lease aid to Russia even though she remains at peace with Japan. The United States ought not to be forced from taking any action with lend-lease which would help defeat the enemy, he declared.

Sen. A. J. Ellender (D-La., said he would fight continued lend-lease to Britain or Russia after Germany is whipped.

"England ought to be able to sail on her own after Germany's defeat," he declared. "If Russia gets in the fray against Japan I'd help her; if not I'd cut her off."

Boxing Show At Camp Reynolds

GREENVILLE, Aug. 24.—Another action-filled program of boxing and wrestling bouts will be presented at Camp Reynolds tonight.

Efforts are now being made to rematch Pvt. Mel Peter and Pvt. Ede Viraz, two outstanding wrestlers who battled to a 30-minute draw last week. Peter and Viraz held professional mat titles prior to their entrance into the Army.

Japan Is Still To Be Licked Yet

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Indications were today that Pittsburghers will spend approaching V-Day on their jobs or in restrained celebration.

City Safety Director George E. A. Farley reported that at a meeting of industrialists and business men plans were advanced for sensible celebration with the idea in mind that Japan still will have to be defeated.

New Castle Men Meet Somewhere In South Pacific

Opening the flap of a tent at an advanced air base somewhere in the South Pacific, on the night of August 8, a deep voice said "Is there anybody here from New Castle, Pa.?"

Corporal Larry Gramling, United States Air Force, former manager of Castle Hills golf course happened to be the man sitting in the tent wondering what was happening at home and was startled by the challenge.

The challenger happened to be Pfc. Joseph H. Wallace, son of Attorney and Mrs. Robert Wallace of 405 East Wallace avenue, a member of the United States Signal Corps.

The two young men had a real "chimefest" about the old home town and their mutual acquaintances, and talked far into the night by candle-light. Young Wallace and Gramling had known each other at Castle Hills.

In writing of the experience to Mrs. Ethel Ludwig of 1504 Highland avenue, Corporal Gramling said that it was a real tonic to be able to see and talk with someone from New Castle when one is thousands of miles from home. Both boys are well and waiting for a crack at the Japs.

Germany is reliably reported to be producing now over five billion gallons of gasoline and light oils per year from coal.

Romania's Quitting Nazis Means Allies Get Ploesti Fields

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 24.—(INS)—Romania's acceptance of a Russian peace offer will give the Allies access to the valuable Ploesti oil fields and make to total victory over the Axis "that much sooner," Gen. Uzal G. Ent declared today.

Gen. Ent is former commander of the Ninth Bomber Command of the U. S. A. F., and led the devastating low-level attack on the Ploesti oil fields in Romania, August 1, 1943.

Gen. Ent, now commanding General of the Second Air Force with headquarters at Colorado Springs, said:

"At the time of the attack, I couldn't help but think how much Ploesti's oil could help us out. Now it looks as if that dream will come true much sooner than anyone expected."

Gen. Ent also expressed hope that the capitulation of Romania will hasten the return of "his boys" who were shot down and made prisoners of war. The general, now 43 years old, is a native of Northumberland, Pa.

Britain is urging that old food ration books be turned in for salvage.

Ward Soldier Tells Of Italian Scenes

Word has been received at this office from Staff Sgt. Alfred Pacella, formerly of 213 Montgomery avenue, attached to the adjutant general's department, infantry division, somewhere in Italy. He has been overseas about 28 months.

Sgt. Pacella states he was among the first AEP to land in northern Ireland, and participated in all of the Italian campaign.

He visited Rome and found it very interesting with its historic sights and scenery, also visited Naples. He was at Cassino and says the town is "completely flattened out," just a mass of destruction.

During the recent eruption of the volcano Vesuvius, Sgt. Pacella went near. He stated it was dangerous at times, as particles of stone were hurled high in the air, some quite large. "I wondered why people in vicinity of volcano carried umbrellas, but soon found out. My overseas cap was full of particles, and though I wore combat shoes, I wondered how the stones got in. At night the heat from the volcano would form streaks lightening the sky every time she erupted and would make a thundering sound throughout the sky."

Sgt. Pacella is a son of Mrs. Rose Pacella of Montgomery avenue.

K. J. U.'S PICNIC AT CASCADE PARK

Members of the K. J. U. class of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church had their annual picnic on Tuesday evening in the grove at Cascade park. Families of members were guests. There were 25 present.

Dinner was served at 6:30. Following the dinner, the park amusements were enjoyed.

The executive committee of the class was in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Alexander and Mrs. W. F. Daugherty.

PENNA BO LODGE BREAKFAST PARTY

Wednesday morning, members of the Penna BO lodge gathered in the grove at Cascade park and had a breakfast party and picnic. The occasion was well attended.

Miss Frances Hammond and Miss Josie Pettitt were special guests. Cards and chat were the diversions.

Next regular meeting will be September 13 in their lodge room at the American Legion Home.

INJURED SOLDIER RESUMES DUTIES

Mrs. Pauline Cassella of 115 Lacock street has received word from her son, Pfc. Mike Cassella, stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., that he is now getting along nicely.

Pfc. Cassella had been injured in a fall from a jeep, was confined to the hospital, and had been in a cast for two months. He is tickled to be out again. He has been in the service for about 14 months.

ARRIVES IN FRANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Natale, of 6 East Cherry street, have received word that their son, Cpl. Louis Natale, has arrived in France. He is attached to the anti-aircraft service. He has been in the service for 18 months and overseas for seven months.

PART OF MINERS RETURN TO WORK

Situation Appears To Be Improved In Coal Strike Areas Of State

(International News Service)

Despite ominous strike clouds which threaten to wash out Pennsylvania coal production within the next 30 to 60 days, the situation today was measurably cleared by the return to work of almost 2,000 western Pennsylvania bituminous miners and the expected return within 24 hours of 4,000 anthracite strikers in the eastern part of the state.

Although there are now 11 pits down in western Pennsylvania, with an estimated 4,500 men idle, the government seizure of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company's four large operations in the Shenandoah valley was expected to put a speedy end to an eight-week strike in a wage dispute.

Coal production loss, which had reached the staggering total of more than 100,000 tons daily, was expected to be cut in half before the day was out.

Two Strikes Ended

In the bituminous fields, two strikes were ended and two more were called this morning as the United Mine Workers drove to force recognition of a supervisory workers' union.

As part of the same drive, the UMW has scheduled 59 strike votes, as is required by the Smith-Connally anti-strike act in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Four pits of the Rochester & Pittsburgh Coal company are down, and the Ernest, McIntyre and Yatesboro operations, with a total of almost 2,000 out.

In addition to the new strike at the Lucerne pit, 218 miners refused to work at the Mt. Pleasant mine of the Jamison Coal & Coke company because one of their number was transferred to another job.

Other struck mines included the Pittsburgh Coal company's Lindley mine near Houston, 277 men, and the Miller Coal company's Oakdale mine, with 32 out.

The three Clyde mines at Clarksburg, meanwhile, also remained closed as state mining officials continued their investigation as to the safety of the pits. Some 1,200 men were without work here meanwhile.

Food Rationing May End As Soon As Germany Quits

War Food Administration Has Over Two Millions Tons Of Food On Hand

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Some government circles expressed belief today that food rationing may end shortly after Germany is defeated.

It was disclosed that war food administration stocks now total approximately two million tons, reserves for the armed services are several times that amount and lend-lease food stocks amount total four to six million tons.

A government spokesman said lend-lease and military food requirements are expected to diminish after Germany collapses while present high farm production will go on, creating surpluses at home and making rationing unnecessary.

"It seems clear," the spokesman said, "that at the fall of Germany, the food supply situation will improve by the amount the armed forces cutback their requirements and it is generally felt that these cutbacks will be enough to make many food items surplus for civilians."

Food rationing began in May, 1942, when controls were placed on sugar. Coffee was rationed in November of that year but was taken off the list in July, 1943. Processed foods and meats, fats and oils rationing began early in 1943.

MAN IS INJURED

Steve Toth, aged 28 years, of R. D. 3, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for a laceration of the forehead.

CHILD INJURED

Elizabeth Soyering, aged 7 years, of 608 Raymond street, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, for a laceration of the upper lip, at 10:30 p. m. Wednesday, for a laceration of the hand.

MAN CUTS LIP

J. A. Gebbia, aged 30 years, of 113 Terrace avenue, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, for a laceration of the upper lip, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

Johnson Bronze Plant Employees Picnic Saturday

Employees of the Johnson Bronze company will take over Cascade park Saturday, August 26, when the annual employees picnic will be held from 2 o'clock in the afternoon until late in the evening. The picnic will be closed all day in order to permit all employees to enjoy the picnic.

The day's activities start at 2 o'clock with dancing in the pavilion until 5 o'clock and bingo in the grove during the same hours. The children's contests start at 3:30 and at 5 o'clock there will be a community sing in the community house. From 5:15 to 6 o'clock a floor show will be presented with Harold McCarty in charge as master of ceremonies. The floor show will be held in the community house. A $1000 war bond will be presented to some lucky person at the close of the floor show.

General Committee has been working upon the plans for the picnic and today Cliff Patterson, general chairman, said that the only thing lacking for a three starred success was a guarantee of good weather.

The committees in charge follow:
General chairman—Cliff Patterson.
Dance committee—Harry Powell, Bingo—Ben Taylor, Hugh Daugherty, James Chilli, Deliaf Seger, Mike Donovan, Jim Penati, Frank Millione, Joe Farone and Charles Woods.
Sports—Paul Cuba, Jack Diamond, Woody Endress, Tom Lewis, Sam Bullano, Ben Gociano and Stan Chesney.
Eats—Bill Hanotis, Pat McClurg, George Kontas, Vassilios Zeremes and Dominick DePaolo.
Coffee—Walter Ecklund, Joe Bosco, William Bukowski, R. A. DePore and Louis Gentsy.
Show—Harold McCarty.
Bond raffle—Mary Greig, Donzella Herman, Dorothy Hannon, Catherine Logue, Esther Chilli, Thelma Rose, Mary Barrett, Mary Brice and Rita Micaletti.

In the first year and a half of the war Coast Guard patrol planes searched and patrolled more than 80,000,000 square miles of convoy and merchant shipping lanes.

Stirone Refuses To Appear Before A.F.L. Executives

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24 (INS)—Nick Stirone, Pittsburgh labor leader, who was scheduled to appear before A.F.L. executives in Chicago tomorrow on charges of insubordination, today refused to appear at the trial because he contended, "It's a packed court."

Stirone, president and business agent of Local 1058, had carriers, building and common laborers, is supported by executives and trustees of the local, who, according to Joseph A. Rossi, Stirone's attorney, are not in favor of financing the trip to Chicago.

The executive board was reported to have issued a statement declaring:

"The only dissenters to the manner in which Local 1058 is being conducted are Joseph V. Moreschi (International president) who gives no reasons, and one disgruntled member."

Capt. J. Blackwood Wins 4 Bronze Stars

Capt. James H. Blackwood, chaplain of the "Thunder Dragons" group, has been authorized to wear four bronze stars on his European-African-Middle Eastern campaign ribbon for battle participation in French Morocco, Tunisia, Sicily and Italy, according to word from an air base in China.

Capt. Blackwood's father is Rev. James M. Blackwood, pastor of the Oak Grove United Presbyterian church near this city. The chaplain's wife and two children live in Philadelphia.

A veteran of 21 months of foreign service, he is on duty in China with Maj. Gen. C. L. Chennault's 14th Air Force. Besides the European ribbons, he has been awarded the American Defense and Pacific ribbons.

Allied Forces Are Now Moving Toward Paris

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS. AEF, Aug. 24 (INS)—Allied occupational forces are moving toward liberated Paris this morning, it was announced at allied headquarters. A headquarters spokesman said it is expected that the honor of being the first to enter Paris will be given to French troops.

The spokesman added that there was no confirmation, at headquarters, on front line dispatches which described the entry of the second French armored division into Paris yesterday.

NUMBERS RACKETEERS ARE BEING RAIDED

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24 (INS)—Allegheny county authorities today were continuing their drive on numbers racketeers with the arrest of three more men charged with operating lotteries.

Flore Campoli, Sam Mastriano and Andrew Kicsak were held on $2,500 bond each. Five persons were arrested Tuesday on similar charges.

4-H PIG CLUBS TO HOLD ROUND-UP

The annual round-up and sale of hogs raised by 4-H club members and vocational agriculture students will be held in Pittsburgh on Thursday, August 31.

Hogs will be sent to the stockyards on Wednesday afternoon, and will be weighed and graded Thursday morning. They will be sold in groups of similar weights by a committee of commission men.

Each person entering a hog will be scored on the care given the animal, on the gain in weight, and the grade. Prizes are available to individuals and groups receiving the best score.

In addition to the entries from Lawrence county, members from eight other counties in Pennsylvania are expected.

POULTRYMEN URGED TO SAVE SOUND PULLETS

Selecting only sound pullets for housing as future layers and grading according to development and maturity may eliminate the hazard of crowding on many farms. This practice is more profitable, and also provides better meat and egg production to meet war needs.

Good management will not overcome laying quarters. Crowding increases roosting problems, allows less feeder space per bird, and induces wet litter, a source of disease hazard.

Culling all unthrifty pullets and those undesirable for layers permits removing these birds for market purposes. It also makes for better utilization of feed, time and labor.

DESTROY GRAIN WEEVIL DURING WARM WEATHER

Each year grain weevils and other insects destroy large quantities of wheat. These insects are rather easily controlled in warm weather.

The most effective treatment is to use carbon disulphide, a liquid which changes to a gas which is heavier than air. This treatment is most effective at temperatures above 70 degrees in the granary. Carbon disulphide is explosive and all open lights and sparks should be kept away.

For treatment of grain in bins, three pounds of carbon disulphide is used for each 100 bushels of grain. This is placed in shallow tins on top of the bin. An additional one half pound for each 100 cubic feet of empty space should be used to kill weevil in cracks and on the sides of the granary. Close the granary tight for a day, then air it well before entering.

This treatment is not dangerous if care is used.

Attendance At Slippery Rock To Be Greater

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Aug. 24—The alarming facts revealed by Selective Service physical examinations are being given serious consideration by many college age youths in western Pennsylvania.

New registrations at Slippery Rock State Teachers College for the fall term have increased greatly over last year. The increase to date amounts to about 50 per cent. At present, even with the scarcity of male students, approximately two-thirds of all students are majoring in the highly important field of Health and Physical Education.

George Jr. Republic Purchases New Farm

GROVE CITY, Aug. 24—To relieve crowded housing conditions and to afford field for expansion of the agricultural operations of the George Junior Republic, the directors of the institution have purchased from Robert Black the farm known as the Scott Black farm.

This tract of 125 acres is immediately adjacent to the Republic farm, and it is the plan of Supt. A. T. Prasse not only to use the land for agricultural production and the barn for crop storage and livestock accommodation, but also to make whatever changes are necessary in the farm house to adapt it to the requirements of two staff families and a limited number of citizens.

The Republic now has all of its land under intensive cultivation, and in addition has several tracts under lease.

Charles Kalichun Wounded In France

Pvt. Charles Kalichun was wounded in France on August 5, according to a telegram from the War department received by his wife of 1408 1/2 Jackson avenue.

Pvt. Kalichun has been overseas since the middle of April, went over to France with the second invasion force.

Should keep only those pieces that will fit into their plan.

Discarding the clumsy and the weak furniture is a step toward simplicity and attractiveness, but what pieces are kept should add to the comfort, convenience, and safety of the room. There should be nothing too good to use and nothing saved for company, but the family need not treat the furnishings carelessly.

Each member in the family ought to have a place in the living room where he can rest, work and read. This means a comfortable chair with good light for each person, even to a small chair for the child.

Place furniture so that one can move easily about a room and get in and out without stumbling or tripping. Locate the largest pieces of furniture parallel to and close to the walls, group small pieces together and balance large pieces with the rest of the furnishings in the room.

Tells Of Final Street Battle For Marseille

By LARRY NEWMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MARSEILLE, Aug. 23.—(Delayed)—The streets of this great French port city ran deep with blood today—the blood of Germans, Vichyites and French Poilus and Maquis Patriots.

For two and a half hours this afternoon, I watch the blood being spilled in the beautiful Rue De La Madeleine, which runs into the famed Cannebiere Boulevard.

From a doorway within 200 yards of German snipers and machine-guns strongly positioned at the head of that street, I saw Frenchmen die and German prisoners shot down by their own artillery.

Unforgettable Hours

These were unforgettable hours, when we entered the town greeted by kisses from the girls of Marseille and then we pinned against a building for more than two hours.

The Nazis, fighting in a last ditch stand, poured ack-ack, heavy caliber machinegun, and sniper fire down the street where French troops and the bravest civilians had pulled up vehicles for a complete occupation of the important harbor.

The Nazis pulled their oldest trick of luring us into position and then opening upon all along the broad avenue.

The first shell ripped a corner from the building nearest us as Carl Mydans, Life magazine photographer, and I raced across the street for cover.

I saw one 37 mm shell hit a German squarely in the back. He was thrown into the air and dropped again—in gory pieces.

Five other prisoners were sprawled on the pavement badly wounded and bleeding. A French soldier lay at the edge of a gutter—also bleeding profusely—and a civilian patriot fighter who had assisted in the capture of the Nazis in a big hotel barricade was sprawled grotesquely at the doorway a few feet from me.

Private Harry Smith of Chattanooga, Tenn., our driver, raced into the doorway from our jeep which had been hit.

Mydans, Fred Painton of Reader's Digest, and Winston Burdett of CBS got in just ahead of the sniper and machinegun fire which ripped the stone and glass outside our hiding place.

I saw one German clear the square but just as he neared safety, a machinegun spluttered. He stopped, threw his arms into the air, spun like a top, and toppled over.

French tanks, carrying Maquis and Poilu soldiers, roared up the avenue.

A civilian darted from one doorway, and some Vichyites fired after him with machineguns. A young boy leaped atop a truck in full view, raised his machinegun, and blasted away at the window from which the Vichyites were firing.

Two other Maquis ran down the alley. A few seconds of silence followed, then we heard carbines fire rapidly. The Maquis reappeared having disposed of the pro-Nazi collaborators.

Pfc. Samuel J. Black Has Recovered From Wounds Suffered On Invasion Day In France

Pfc. Samuel J. Black, aged 31 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Plummer Black of the Edenburg-Mt. Jackson road, who was wounded in France on invasion day, has recovered from his wounds and is back in service, although in a different branch.

Pvt. Black was with the amphibious forces which stormed the coast of Normandy on invasion day, and was wounded June 6. After recovering he was assigned to another branch of service, he wrote his parents. He has been overseas almost a year and has been in service since 1941.

Physician Describes
3 Ages Of Doctor

PITTSBURGH—(INS)—To Shakespeare's seven ages of man, Dr. Charles E. Snyder of Greensburg, Pa., adds the three ages of the doctor.

In Pittsburgh to receive a testimonial from the Pennsylvania Medical society for completing 50 years of medical service "faithfully performed," the 88-year-old physician, with a twinkle in his eye, described the three ages as follows:

1. Five years spent "in partly begging for a living."
2. Twenty-five years of "practically killing himself" in an expanding practice.
3. The remaining years during which "fewer and fewer of his patients recognize him as he gradually fades out of the picture."

But the good-natured practitioner had no complaints and quickly added:

"Those last years provide a happy experience because then we are able to sum up our work, to see what we have accomplished—and to develop our souls."

DOCTOR JENNER

Girls should honor Doctor Edward Jenner as the foremost beauty specialist.

One hundred fifty years ago, smallpox was a very common disease everywhere.

Since Doctor Jenner's good work in making use of vaccination, smallpox is not the terrible scourge of former centuries.

Smallpox spoiled millions of beautiful faces. It was a rare thing to find a person who had escaped. Vaccination has protected our people. Nowadays smallpox is a rare disease.

Girls faces are not disfigured by the unsightly pock marks. Smallpox is still with us and only by constant vigilance can it be conquered.

Doctor Jenner has more friends now than he had when he was alive. That is true of most public benefactors.

CHURCH OUSTED
FROM QUARTERS
IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(INS)—The congregation of the Church of the Strangers in New York was looking for new quarters today after city marshals, carrying out mortgage foreclosure proceedings brought by a bank, piled the holy communion service, linens and other paraphernalia on the sidewalk in front of the church.

The bank had foreclosed on an apartment building standing on the site of the original church, whose congregation of late years occupied a chapel on the ground floor. Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt had financed construction of the original edifice.

Seventy-two-year-old Dr. Paul Mansfield Spencer, pastor for the last 35 years of the non-denominational church, declared today:

"The Church of the Strangers will go on. They may have had the legal right to oust us, but not the moral right. I offered them the pulpit Bible and suggested they take it to the bank and open it."

PASSES RUBBER CHECK

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Jim Stevenson, 35, of Philadelphia, a six-time offender who passed a $149 rubber check, was listed on general sessions court records today as guilty of second-degree grand larceny after the court refused to accept his plea of guilty to forgery.

The reason: It developed that Stevenson can neither read nor write.

Over 38,000 coal miners have taken extension course at the University of West Virginia alone.

Peace Time Army Of Three Million Urged By V.F.W.

National Encampment Declares Military Power Of Japan Must Be Annihilated

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—(INS)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars at their 45th annual encampment today declared the power of Japan to make war must be annihilated to insure the future safety of the United States.

A resolution called for the complete disarmament of Japan and the convention advocated a peace time army for the United States of "no less than three million men with up-to-date equipment" to insure against any aggression.

Urging strict policing of Germany by the United Nations, the veterans declared: "We view with grave concern the growing tendency to condone the war guilt of the people of Germany and Japan. The German people cannot escape their responsibility for starting the war and for the crimes that have been committed by the German armies."

The convention recommended that military discharge priority be granted on the basis of length and type of service, with special preference for those spending the longest period in combat areas.

"Battle pay" was endorsed and it was recommended that congress provide for payment of extra compensation to men in combat on the same basis as the 50 per cent additional pay allocated to men in flying and submarine service.

The delegates were split on the issue of admitting army and navy women to VFW membership. Efforts were made earlier in the convention to postpone a decision until after the war, but there were indications the question might come to a vote today.

Small Business Fatalities Are Under Forecast

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Sen. James M. Mead (D-N.Y.) today termed 1,073,000 business discontinuances between Pearl Harbor and the end of 1943 a much smaller number than had been expected.

Mead said that, with new enterprises having been started, the net loss is about a half-million business firms. There were 3,340,000 in operation at the end of 1941.

A member of the senate small business committee, Mead declared: "Few of us in our most optimistic moments had expected the fatalities could be kept to so small a figure."

He said 85 per cent of the establishments that closed their doors were small—employing three or less persons.

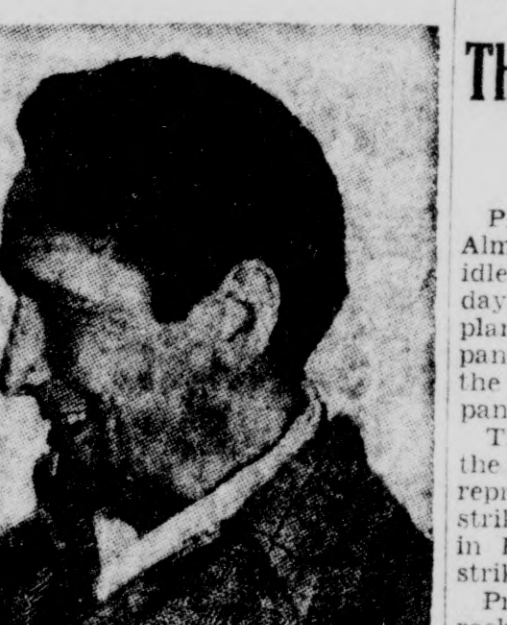

Boy Scouts To Hold Review In September

Board of Review will be held for New Castle Boy Scouts Tuesday evening, September 5, in the auditorium of the senior high school. Thomas Allen, scout executive, announced today. Qualifications of the boys will be considered to see if they are eligible for advancement or for merit badges. The review will be conducted by Elmer Gerlach.

Those who pass the board will receive their badges at the Court of Honor Monday evening, September 25. This meeting, also in the high school auditorium, will be under the supervision of Dr. A. H. Borland.

Tune in WKST -TONIGHT 7:15- "PALESTINE SPEAKS"

The dramatic story of how a handful of 87 volunteer soldiers from Palestine defeated two divisions of Axis troops and captured the Nazi stronghold of Bardia on the Libyan coast, will be told by stage and screen star Victor Jory when "Palestine Speaks!" bows in tonight over station WKST, at 7:15 o'clock.

VICTOR JORY

This new dramatic series is presented jointly by station WKST and the Lawrence County District of the Zionist Organization of America, and will bring a new star to the microphone each Thursday night to tell another story about the work of the pioneers on the world's oldest frontier—Palestine. Sharing honors with Victor Jory in the opening show will be Ben Grauer of the Jergens Journal and Information Please, Horace Braham, Roger de Koven and Albert Aley.

The new ordinance was adopted by the village board after complaints of residents that the lusty crowing of the town's chandeliers was spoiling their morning sleep. The distance was settled upon after testimony that a rooster's zood morning salutation fades out pretty well at 300 feet.

North Beaver Soldier Killed

Pfc. Paul Daniel Emery Killed in Action in France, Sister Here Is Informed

Word has been received by Mrs. Joseph S. Ohlin of North Beaver township of the death of her brother, Pfc. Paul Daniel Emery, aged 32 years, who was killed in action in France on August 9. The message came from Pfc. Emery's wife, Mrs. Paul D. Emery of Lincolnton, Ga., in a telegram received Wednesday morning.

Pfc. Emery was born on the Columbus-Mt. Jackson road, North Beaver township, on June 21, 1912, the son of Harry W. and Elizabeth Lynn Emery. He was educated in the North Beaver schools and graduated from Bessemer high school. He entered the service late in 1941, and went overseas in April 1944, where he was serving in the infantry in one of the old regular divisions.

He is survived by his wife, an infant daughter, Patricia Ann, of Lincolnton, Ga.; his father, Harry W. Emery, and sister, Mrs. Joseph S. Ohlin of North Beaver township.

He was a member of the Westfield Presbyterian church. A memorial service in his honor will be held in the church on Sunday evening, September 3, at 8 o'clock.

FORMER KING CAROL HAPPY ON WAR TURN

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Former King Carol of Romania declared today that he was happy his son, King Michael, "listening to the real sentiments of the people" pulled Romania out of the war.

Commenting on Romania's acceptance of a peace offer, he said: "It is a very good thing, this understanding with Romania's powerful neighbor, the U. S. S. R."

Of the immediate future, Carol said: "I hope to see as soon as possible the realization of an old wish of mine that the standard of Romania will shortly be flying alongside those of the United Nations, not only politically but also on the battlefield."

Expressing his pleasure at the reported decision of the United Nations not to recognize the Vienna award, Carol said "the conquest of Transylvania will help bring about the defeat of a tyrant who for four years has enslaved the Romanian people."

"My joy is so much greater because I have always considered that which has now been done corresponds entirely with the interests and wishes of the nation."

No Sidetracking Of Reconversion Plans

WPB Head Donald Nelson Assures Senate War Investigating Committee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(INS)—War production board chairman Donald Nelson was reported today to have assured the Senate war investigating committee he did not believe his reconversion plans would be side-tracked.

This report came as the committee continued to press its inquiry by calling vice chairman Charles E. Wilson who will be acting chairman during Nelson's "mission to China."

Nelson reportedly assured the committee in an executive meeting that he was confident he was not being "eased out" of his WPB post—or "getting kicked in the teeth."

He was said to have told the committee—which backed his plan for partial reconversion of industry to civilian production—that the program is under way and not likely to be pushed aside.

The WPB chief said it was indicated that he would be kept informed of all developments, and could be home within a few days.

Three Thousand War Workers Idle

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Almost 3,000 war workers remained idle in the Pittsburgh district today, shutting down the Allegheny plant of the Pittsburgh Steel Company and two north side plants of the Pennsylvania Transformer Company.

The war labor board has asked the company, union and strikers' representatives to meet to discuss the strike to threaten their dispute in Philadelphia tomorrow. The 325 strikers have been out 21 days.

Production of rocket nozzles and rocket tubes was being held up at the Allegheny plant as 230 strikers kept 2,400 other employees idle in a demand for an "understandable" bonus system. It was estimated 110 of the idle workers were World War II veterans who had returned to their jobs following dismissal from the armed forces.

Chickens Must Be Good Mathematicians

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Roosters must step back 300 feet from any residence in Kenilworth, a Chicago suburb, if they wish to crow, under a village ordinance which went into effect at cock's crow this morning.

The hens get a better break, for they have to move back only 200 feet from the nearest house to cackle.

The new ordinance was adopted by the village board after complaints of residents that the lusty crowing of the town's chandeliers was spoiling their morning sleep.

The distance was settled upon after testimony that a rooster's zood morning salutation fades out pretty well at 300 feet.

Home Appeal To German Army

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(INS)—An appeal to the German army on the home front to stand fast and avoid "internal disorder" was broadcast today by the German radio.

"There is a warning to all of us soldiers in the threatening example of France," the broadcast warning said.

"France laughed when she was faced with the prospect of forming a united front to bear up to the test of total war, and even before the invasion had a kind of parliament which included a thousand parties, amongst them Moscow Terrorists, New Republicans, Anglophil plutocrats, friends of America, hangers on of De Gaulle and Giraud and many other creeds and beliefs."

"This is a sign of weakness, lack of entirely in steadfastness and determination and from this kind of political strife we must be warned."

"We must be warned of the internal disorder such as Terrorists attacks against our own people."

BROOK GOES DRY
DAWSON CREEK, B. C.—(INS)—Liquor rationing didn't bother Albert Brook, civilian employee of the U. S. army. At least, not until police charged him with illegal possession of liquor. Brook had one permit that was legal—and, police said, 170 were not. He paid a $500 fine.

A few years ago, one authority gave his list of the ten most beautiful words in the English language. They were: Dawn, hush, lullaby, murmuring, tranquil, mist, luminous, chimes, golden and melody.

World's Largest Cargo Seaplane Being Built

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Howard Hughes, multi-millionaire motion picture producer who more recently became an aircraft magnate, disclosed today that the world's largest cargo seaplane—which he is building in collaboration with Henry Kaiser—will be completed within one year.

The huge plane, which Hughes described as having a wingspread "longer than a football field" is known as HK-1. Hughes said the plane would take off before this time next year from the Long Beach harbor.

The HK-1 is but one of three aircraft projects in which the youthful aeronautical enthusiast is engaged. He refused to say, however, if the other two planes he is designing and building are larger or smaller than the HK-1.

Hughes said that Kaiser is interested only in the gigantic HK-1 and in that project is concerned only with details of mass production if the model is accepted by the U. S. government.

Suspension Of Vaccination For Time Allowed

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Dr. A. H. Stewart, state secretary of health, today authorized the temporary suspension of vaccination of school children because of the prevalence of infantile paralysis.

The action was described by Pittsburgh's Health Director I. Hope Alexander as another precautionary straw to grasp in the hopeful prevention of polio. The method of transmission of the disease is unknown.

When the polio danger passes, however, Dr. Stewart was quoted as saying all children who have been admitted to school without certificates must be vaccinated.

In July of 1942 Coast Guard Lieut. D. O. Reed, commanding officer of a seaplane with a normal capacity of only nine men, succeeded in rescuing 21 torpedoes Norwegian seamen from the open sea.

Sergt. John Ferry Back From Service On Italian Front

Cascade Street Soldier Took Part
In Siege Of Cassino And Other
Battles; Entered Rome

"Rome is a beautiful city, the Italian people are friendly and everything was for the 'American liberators' but give me the good old United States cities, and especially New Castle," said Sgt. John Ferry today home after 10 months with the Fifth Army in the liberating of Italy from the yoke of the Nazi war lords.

Sgt. Ferry, a member of an anti-aircraft artillery company, took part in the battle of Salerno and was awarded a bronze citation for a major battle engagement. He also took part in the siege of Cassino for four months and helped the Americans take the city.

In Salerno Battle

Sgt. Ferry entered the army in March of 1942 and took his basic training at Camp Wolters, Texas. He was sent to North Africa in the early part of 1943. From Algers Sgt. Ferry landed in time to take part in the Salerno battle and has been with the first troops that followed the infantry into liberated Rome and advanced north as far as Lepanto where an attack of malaria believed contracted in North Africa laid him low, after being transferred to the Island of Corsica.

Had Ferry not been sent home he would now be taking part in the battle for Southern France, that is where his battalion is now fighting, according to reports.

While stationed below Naples, Sgt. Ferry saw the great volcano of Vesuvius erupting and enveloping an Italian city. "We were close enough to see the volcano with field glasses," Ferry said. Sgt. Ferry also recounted his experiences while shelling the St. Benedictine monastery of Cassino.

Gets Word of "Papa"

"While being shelled by the Germans and ducking now and then in a fox-hole at a town below Naples, Sgt. Ferry got word from his wife Ann of the birth of his son John Ferry, Jr. "That was the greatest thrill of the war for me," Ferry related. The baby was over two and a half months old before the letter caught up to me in that fox-hole." The baby was born in August and I never got the letter until in October.

Sgt. Ferry is visiting his wife, and son, John, at the Ferry home 404 1/2 Cascade street and for the next twenty-one days will rest and enjoy renewing acquaintances with his many golfing friends at Sylvan Heights.

Following his furlough here Sgt. Ferry must report at Ashville, N. C. for treatment for his malaria, and for a rest and checkup period. Sgt. Ferry was hospitalized by the malaria attack in Italy, and received fine care, he says.

Fifteen States Are Represented At Conference

Old-Age Assistance Is Considered
In Meetings Under Way
At Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Aug. 24.—(INS)—Sixty legislative leaders and cabinet members of 15 states opened a two-day session in Harrisburg today to discuss uniform administration of relief and old-age assistance as well as other social and welfare problems.

"The states, through meetings of legislators and administrators, are now ready to proceed with the drafting of specific legislative proposals on subject matter that has been controversial for many years," declared Rep. Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, chairman.

"It is my personal hope that we can do a thorough job of starting the ball rolling toward legislative goals in the January sessions, when 44 of the 48 state legislatures will be in session," he added.

Secretary Floyd Chaffant will address the group at today's session. Unemployment compensation, veterans' benefits, social security legislation and postwar reconstruction were included in the agenda.

In addition to Pennsylvania, representatives of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Ohio and Illinois.

SPECIAL REGISTRATION DAYS

Special registration days for various parts of the county have been announced by A. Lewis Conn, chief clerk to the permanent registration bureau. Tonight from 7 to 9, special registration will be held in Volant.

Monday, Enon Valley in the borough hall, 10 to 3 and 7 to 10.

Tuesday in the office of Alderman B. J. Biondi from 10 to 3 and 7 to 10.

Wednesday, Mahoning fire house, Seventh ward, 10 to 3 and 7 to 10.

Thursday and Friday, Ellwood City, 10 to 3 and 7 to 10.

CASES FILED

The following cases have been filed with Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar.

Beverly M. Arkwright of Mount Route, Ellwood City, asks a divorce from Gaylord A. Arkwright of Mount Route, Ellwood City, upon the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment and desertion. They were married in Ellwood City.

Ruth E. Hickey of New Castle asks a divorce from Hugh H. Hickey of the Army on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to person. They were married in Mercer.

Agnes M. Frazier of New Castle asks a divorce from Robert M. Frazier of Newburg, W. Va., on the grounds of indignities to person and immoral practices. They were married June 18, 1942, in New Castle.

Mary Cochran files a suit for $10,000 damages against James B. Foster for injuries said to have been sustained when the car of her husband, Harry Cochran, in which she was riding collided with the car of Mr. Foster at the corner of North Mercer and Grant streets at 10 o'clock on the night of November 2, 1942. The plaintiff claims Mr. Foster drove negligently and that the injuries to her were such that she was forced to spend the winter of 1943 in Arizona to guard against a threatened attack of tuberculosis.

Earl Raymond Gilbert of Wayne township asks a divorce from Mary Jean Gilbert of New Castle upon the grounds of desertion. They were married November 26, 1936, in Wurttemberg.

TWO SENTENCES

Two sentences were handed down by Judge W. Walter Braham. Nancy Snyder was fined $100 and costs and sentence suspended for one year for larceny.

Joseph Bell, failure to support a minor child was ordered to pay costs and ten dollars per month towards the support of the child.

County commissioners discussed the possibility of group insurance for all county employees Wednesday with insurance agents. No action was taken but the matter is to be probed further.

all get the same

electric service!

WAR has moved many American families into new living quarters. But, whatever the size of their homes, they all get exactly the same dependable electric service.

Oh, sure, some folks may light more rooms and use more appliances than you do. But the service and the quality of the electricity you receive remain the same. You can't buy an "exclusive" grade.

Electricity is also the one service whose cost has remained low — while the cost of living in general has been going up. Whoa, you say? Your bill's been more over the years? Well, that's because you're now using electricity to keep food, wash clothes, clean rugs, tell time and make music—where once you used it only for light.

The truth is, the average American family today gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago! And we, your friends and neighbors, are proud to be one of the many electric companies under business management, bringing you this bargain.

Cards-Browns Series Looms

Cardinals Are Sure Of Winning Flag, Browns Have Tougher Fight On Hands

PIRATES TRYING FOR SECOND MONEY

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—It appears today as if both major league races might be virtually decided by Labor day.

The Cardinals, of course, are a shoe-in for the National league pennant. Even if they lost every game from now until the end of the season, it is doubtful that the fast-stepping Pirates who have won 17 of their last 18 games could catch Billy Southworth's outfit. It is not likely that the Pirates can continue their terrific pace, but they should have little trouble saving second money from the Reds. The rest, of course, don't figure at all.

Have Tough Program
The next 10 days should be the hell for the Browns. Next week they take on the Tigers in four games and then travel to St. Louis for another four with the same team. Those eight games may make or break the Browns. If they can get an even break on the eight, they should breeze in. If they should fold up, the odds on the Tigers, Red Sox or Yankees might catch them.

To date, the Browns have won 11 games from the Tigers while losing only three. They have won eight and lost ten to the Yankees. Against the Red Sox, their record is ten won and nine lost. That leaves them only four to play with the Yankees and three with the Red Sox.

Therefore, if they can hold their own with the Tigers, they will be sensationally prolonged winning streak by either the Red Sox or Yankees could catch them. And neither Yanks nor Red Sox have shown anything to indicate they could stage such a winning spurt.

Cards Are In
As of today, the odds on the Cardinals should be at least 1000 to 1 to win. The odds on the Browns should be at least 6 to 1.

Like Joe McCarthy, manager of the Yanks, we like to play the percentages and the figures all say that the Browns and Cards will meet in the next world series.

There was only one game in the majors yesterday and in that one the Cards trimmed the Cubs, 11 to 1.

Five School Squads Will Be Trained At Slippery Rock

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Aug. 24.—Football squads of five high schools in the Beaver Valley will arrive soon at Slippery Rock State Teachers College for pre-season training. They will be here for a ten day period. Schools are Beaver, Midland, Freedom, Hopewell township and Aspinwall high schools. The arrangements were made by N. Ferr Thompson, who is the official college host.

This is an innovation here, made possible because the college has discontinued varsity sports for the duration of the war. Facilities are ample and schedules will be drawn up to assure each squad full use of space and equipment. Coaches of the participating schools have expressed complete satisfaction with the arrangements here.

NEW CASTLE NEWS SPORTS

Plays No Favorites

STAN PARTENHEIMER, southpaw pitcher for Columbus in the American Association, plays no favorites. He has beaten every team in the league—including Columbus. This unusual situation came about because Partenheimer opened the season with Louisville, transferred to the Boston Red Sox and then was sent to Columbus. Partenheimer has won 11 and lost three.

Recall Hole-in-One Fifteen Years Ago

Dorothy Magill's hole-in-one at Castle Hills last Friday was not the first for a woman golfer in New Castle. It was brought to light through Angelo "Dike" Monsey, former pro at the New Castle Field club.

Fifteen years ago Elizabeth Kirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kirk of Moody avenue, well known hardware people, made a hole-in-one at the short No. 13 green on the in-coming nine at the Field Club. Playing with his sister at the time was Howard Kirk Jr.

"The ball hit in the ditch in front of the green and took a crazy hop and landed on the green not far from the cup and trickled in for the rarest of shots, Howard Jr. recalled today when asked about it."

Elizabeth Kirk, is now addressed as Dr. Elizabeth Rose and lives in Philadelphia. She is well known to many friends here in New Castle. Well, anyhow, Dorothy and Elizabeth belong to a very exclusive club, only two members.

COACH REASSIGNED
Lt. Chick Werner, peacetime track coach at Penn State, anticipates an early sea assignment. He has been serving on the athletic staff at North Carolina Pre-Flight for the last two years.

New York City's first air-cooled house it had an ice chamber in the basement, was built in the 1860's.

Sign Southworth Two More Years

St. Louis Cardinals Break Precedent But It Looks Like Good Investment

CARDINALS CHAMPS THREE TIMES IN ROW

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—After thinking the matter over very carefully, we have come to the conclusion that the guy who said they, "never come back" must have been talking about shirts from the laundry. A man, anyhow, seemed practically forced to reach this opinion after what happened over in St. Louis recently where the Cardinals set a new record by winning their 80th game two days earlier than any other club in National league history. . . . Although the fact merely confirmed something that had happened a few days before. A few days before, Billy Southworth had been signed to a two-year contract as manager of the club by Owner Sam Breadon.

Same Old Southworth
This was the same Southworth who once had been fired by Breadon on somewhere back around the Ray Blades era. He also was the same Southworth, with certain noteworthy changes, who once had been fired as coach by Bill Terry under mysterious circumstances during one of the Giants' spring training trips.

However, we'll willingly omit the firing by Terry as being irrelevant. And even go so far as to say that the firing by Breadon was without particular novelty, since it was Sam's quaint custom to do that at which with virtually any manager on alternating Wednesdays in the fall of the year when Sam's resistance was always very redoubtable.

It was the hiring by Breadon for two years, in fact, that really meant something. Never before, it was pointed out at the time, had Owner Breadon so weakened his resolve as to sign a man to a two-year contract, the inference being that among all the ball players who have won all the pennants in his name, Breadon considered his present manager the most important.

Farms Big Help
It was a tacit acknowledgement, too, that even the celebrated St. Louis share-cropper system, no longer was the over-all factor that automatically ordained the success of St. Louis managers.

And the so-called farm system has been nobody's folly, at that, even a war year. For, among others, it furnished Bergam, the outfielder, and Verban, who took Klein's place at second base, and Fallon, who fills in for Martin Marion at shortstop; and also Fred Schmidt who pitched last night's shutout over the Giants.

As to that, it has supplied practically every St. Louis player for the last 10 years, including Stan Musial, the champion hitter, and the two Coopers. It even furnished the two Deans, greatest of pitchers in their day.

Southworth Is Set
But Southworth, the manager, must have been more important the other day than any of these. Maybe of course Owner Breadon was only trying to be nice, although Owner Breadon is not outstanding as a man whose niceness is a household word. Maybe, though, he was taking this means of rewarding Southworth for having won pennants in 1942 and 43, while making a kick-in-the-pantry out of the present race the Cards are leading by 18, with two-thirds of the season finished.

And so, in finishing, we can do no less than repeat what we said at the start: the guy who said they never come back really must have been talking about shirts from the laundry. In any case, it couldn't have been Bill Southworth.

Captain Hiestand Wins Fourth Title

Fort Myers, Florida, Army Officer American Clay Target Champion Fourth Time

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 24.—(INS)—Capt. Joe Hiestand, of Hillsboro, O., and Ft. Myers, Fla., who has captured about every trapshooting title in existence, today became the first man ever to win the North American Clay Target championship four times.

Hiestand, an Army Air Forces gunnery officer, broke 200 straight targets to post his fourth win as the 45th Annual Grand American Trapshooting tournament opened. A former amateur, doubles and all-around champion, Hiestand previously won the North American in 1935, 1936 and 1938.

At the halfway mark in the North American competition, seven marks-men were tied with perfect 100 scores, including Hiestand and four other crack shots in the Class AA championship division. Tied with him were Maj. C. W. "Buddy" Jones, of Knoxville, Tenn., and La. red, Tex.; Capt. Vic Reenders, of Waukesha, Wis., and Brooks Field, Tex.; Sgt. Hale C. Jones, of Miami Beach, Fla.; and "Big Bill" Drennan, of Utica, Ill.

The defending champion, Orla C. Boyd, of Farmland, Ill., fell by the wayside in the first half with only 94 of 100 targets.

Pavot Compared With Greatest

Horsemen Believe Pavot Will Equal Man O'War In Greatness On Race Track

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Horsemen have been saying for many years that they would never live long enough to see another colt as good as Man O'War.

But today many of them have changed their tune. They are now singing the praises of Walter J. Pavot, the unbeaten brown colt, and comparing him favorably with the old champion.

Pavot has gone to the post six times against the best rivals the east has to offer and he won each time with a ridiculous ease. In winning the Grand Union Hotel stakes Saturday he exceeded at least a dozen pounds to every other horse in the race. He carried 126 pounds, which is quite a package for a two-year-old, but even with that weight it was no contest.

Pavot Comes Through
George Woolf held Pavot under stout restraint until a furlong from home. Then he gave the big youngster his head and the colt shot to the front with such a terrific burst of speed that he seemed as if the other horses were standing still.

His trainer, Oscar White, says he haven't seen anything yet and his jockey, Woolf, agrees. "I don't know how fast he can go," said Woolf. "I really had that baby under wraps all the way. All I know about him is that he had done everything asked of him and done it with the greatest of ease."

Has Won $73,500
Pavot has won $73,500 in his brief career and that will buy all the oats he'll ever eat if he should outlive Man O'War. He has the $30,000 Hopeful coming up in 10 days and the $75,000 Futurity to shoot at later on and it is likely that he will be an overwhelming favorite in both races.

There is no doubt that the colt has a tremendous burst of speed. He can go a route and he has a world of courage.

What more can anyone ask of a horse? Nevertheless, I've seen Twilight Tear and Devil Diver beaten within the last two weeks. And, as the horsemen say, they all have four legs, which is another way of saying any of them can be beaten. In any event, it might be well to wait until after the Futurity at least before tabbing Pavot another Man O'War.

Rain Postpones Golf League End

Final Matches In Sylvan Heights League Race Will Be Played Next Wednesday Eve

Rain, which fell just before playing time last evening, caused a postponement of the final matches of the season in the Sylvan Heights league. The final matches will be played next Wednesday evening. President Frank Summers announced today.

The New Castle Moose, winners of the first half championship, are leading the league by 1½ points and will make a strong bid to hold this advantage when the final game is played next Wednesday. Saegertown, in second place, are hopeful of dislodging the champs and forcing a playoff for the season title.

IMPORTANT GAME IN LEGION LEAGUE

Cozy Corners will play Wolverines tonight at Washington Field in an important game in the American Legion Junior League. The Cozy Corner team, winners of the first half title, are still setting the pace in the second half, with eight wins and no losses, while Dean Park second place holders, have won 6 and lost 2.

Fireman Joe Zeigler will probably be on the mound for the Cozy Corner team, while either Badurick or Tanner will be on the firing line for the Wolverines.

Franklin Death Stirs Ringmen

Illinois May "Furlough" Kayoed Boxers For Six Weeks Period

EXAMINATION AFTER FIGHT, LEWIS' ADVICE

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Reports from reliable sources have it that the Illinois Boxing Commission or its chairman, Sheldon Clarke (or both), is considering the passage of a rule here that would prohibit the re-entry of a prize fighter into an Illinois ring for six weeks after a knockout in which he has been the principal exhibit. The proposed legislation is understood to represent an attempt to avert a repetition of the Lem Franklin tragedy, by which the local fighter, known to be a physical bankrupt, was battered down to his death in a Newark, N. J., ring several weeks ago.

Franklin just previously had been knocked out here. And under the six-weeks statute of limitations would not have been allowed to fight again in Illinois until the medical reports on him were favorable, which probably would have been never.

Would Undergo Observation
But, since there's nothing in such a rule that would have prevented him from fighting elsewhere, we become impressed with this touch of Macabre logic last night:

It's never important to the victim where he is killed. Therefore, we began casting about among boxing men for at least one possible solution. And we wound up with the first by Johnny Rogers, manager of Lloyd Marshall (duration light heavyweight champion); the second by Nate Lewis, who has out-lived successive generations and finds little change that's worth the mentioning.

Lewis would have the victim of what is known as a clean knockout "distinguished from the 'technical' or stopped-by-the-referee variety" placed under observation by a competent physician during the first 24 hours following the incident in the ring. Rogers is a little different. He'd have the victim spend the first 24 hours in bed.

Rest, Examination Suggested
Both, however, were in complete concord on one point:

For at least 48 hours there should be no wine, women and narry. But, of course, the average guy who has been knocked on the visage would be a little less than human if he didn't want more than his share of cash. Rogers said as to his own policy:

"If my fighter, winning or losing, takes a tough beating, the first thing that happens to him is that he goes to bed for 24 hours."

Mr. Lewis thinks the bed is all right, but as for the doctor, he's imperative. And, as you may or may not have noticed, both men feel that it's the 24 hours after the fight that count, not the 24 hours before when commission doctors are going by the athletes with everything but divining rods.

First Grid Game Friday Evening

Washington Redskins Will Play March Field All-Americans At Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—(INS)—The Washington Redskins, headed by Slinging Sammy Baugh, ruled 5-8 favorites today to defeat the Paul Schissler's March Field All-Americans in tomorrow night's football opener in the Coliseum.

Both squads put finishing touches on the preparations for the game yesterday.

Luckman Will Play In All-Star Game

COLLEGEVILLE, Ind., Aug. 24.—(INS)—Fortified with a new offensive punch by the appearance of Ensign Sid Luckman, the Chicago Bears' board of strategy began today to polish the defense in preparation for the game against the College All-Stars in Evanston next Wednesday night.

Luckman, the pro game's most valuable player last year, was his usual sharp self yesterday during a two-hour scrimmage.

While Luckman operated at quarterback, the No. 1 squad scored three touchdowns. Two more were scored under Ray McLean's piloting as the No. 2 squad took a 32 to 7 trouncing.

Football Teams Gather Tonight

New Castle And Bessemer Meet This Evening, Shenango Meets Friday Morning

Football will definitely be in the air tonight as New Castle High and Bessemer High grid candidates stage initial meetings of the 1944 season. Shenango High will meet Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock for a light session.

Elwood City started Wednesday to get ready for football, and will continue through today and Friday with preliminaries, while actual workouts will not begin until Monday for any of the four teams.

Plan Camp Trip
Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will greet his 1944 material tonight at seven o'clock at Taggart stadium. Coach Joe Weresuk will meet with the Bessemer High boys at seven o'clock at the Bessemer school building. Coach Eddie Nahas scans his material tomorrow morning.

New Castle High will again establish a camp at Muddy Creek Falls starting next Monday morning.

SPORTS SCRAPBOOK

Year ago today: Philadelphia's suffer their 20th loss in a row, losing 6 to 5 to Chicago, tying the league record. In the second game of a double bill, the A's won, 8 to 1, 10 years ago today. With Eldon Auker pitching, Detroit beat Washington, 12 to 6, to lead the league 4½ games. 20 years ago today: Vic Aldridge of the Cubs held the Giants to three bingles, to win ball game, 2 to 1, in Chicago.

Golfers Qualify In Big Tourney

Steve Kovach Of Tarentum Shoots 71 To Qualify At Chicago Course

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—(INS)—The biggest of wartime golf tournaments, the All-American, started its 72-hole drive today at the Tam O'Shanter Country Club with $42,500 in war bonds to be split among the leaders at the end of the route next Sunday.

The tournament proper got under way after three days of qualifying in which the huge amateur field was reduced to 26, the women's open to 28, and the All-American open to about 110, a grand total of 164. Among the professional players seeking the top prize of $13,462.50 in war bonds and stamps were most of the top-ranking players still active in tournament golf.

Kovach Qualifies
They were led by defending champion "Jug" McSpaden of Philadelphia, years leading money winner; Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., new PGA champion; Byron Nelson of Toledo, winner of the first two Tam O'Shanter meets; Craig Woods of Mamaroneck, N. Y., the duration National Open champion; and Sam Byrd of Detroit, third highest money winner of the year.

All of these and more than 30 others were exempt from play in the qualifying round because of their previous records. Other leaders among the pros were Bud Williamson, Lincoln, Neb.; 70; Steve Kovach, Tarentum, Pa.; and Chick Rutan, Detroit, 71; Gene Kunes, Philadelphia; Johnny Gibson, Chicago; Fred Ammon, Tuckahoe, N. Y.; Bill Heinlein, Noblesville, Ind.; Bill Urban, Greensburg, Ind.; and Al Huske, Chicago, 73.

Cardinals To Hold Baseball School

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 24.—Charles Keelner and Roy Dissinger, two of the best known baseball scouts in this part of the country, will supervise a baseball try-out camp for aspiring young ball players at City Park on Monday and Tuesday, August 23 and 29. The camp is one of many conducted by the famous St. Louis Cardinals this summer for the purpose of looking over young baseball talent to supply minor league clubs in the Cardinals' farm system.

A first lieutenant in the Army Nurse Corps was the first American woman to win two decorations in the present war, according to the war department.

Aaron Perry's Story Old One To Boxing Game

Young Washington, D. C.
Scrapper Rushed Along
Too Fast By His Manager

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Staff Editor)

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—One of the most meteoric—and certainly one of the most tragic—careers ever seen in sports was reeled off when Aaron Perry, 19-year-old Washington, D. C., welterweight, rose from preliminary bout to Madison Square Garden main event, then slid back to the ranks of journeyman tramps, all in the space of seven months.

It is no longer a badge of honor in pugilism today to be selected for a Garden main event, that rich arena already having seen the likes of Julie Kogan, Turkey Thompson, Freddie Archer and Vinnie Vines, but Perry, at least was what might be called a great prospect. He made his appearance in the Garden on supporting cards in February and March, received the plaudits of the unsuspecting, disappeared in the direction of Washington and returned without half the potentialities he went away with.

What happened along the way? Perry made such an impression in his first minor Garden appearance and the time he came back to take a lacing from Jimmy McDaniels of Los Angeles is one of those all too common chapters in the seamy side of the book. What happened to Perry was that he was rushed into a series of fights for which he might not have been ready even two years from now, had his brains been knocked out, and thus was beaten before McDaniels, who looks like an anteater but is somewhat more belligerent, put up his paws.

Perry's first appearance in the Garden was in a sixer against a plug named Joey Manfro, who succumbed before either contestant worked up a sweat. That was in February.

Looking back on that fight, after seeing Perry knocked out by McDaniels, it is somewhat difficult to imagine why writers and fans went nuts over Perry after seeing him in action only a few minutes, but we did. Perry was almost immediately called "the little Louis" and not without reason. He is a light-skinned Negro; a stand-up boxer with an unmovable countenance like Joe's but better to look at; had power in both hands and was blessed with a great physique and inordinately fast reflexes. It was not long after his first work-out when Perry was called back to the Garden to beat Freddie Addeo in six.

Manager To Blame
Therewith, the gold mine was promptly transferred back to Washington by his discoverer, Harry Garsh, and thrown into the pit with former Lightweight Champion Sammy Angott. This was the first step on the road to oblivion for Perry. He was soundly out-fought and lost in ten rounds, beaten by a man who has never lost more than one fight a year and who can make his opponent look bad any time he wants to.

The gold was still there for Garsh, however, and it was not long after when Perry was matched with former Triple Champion Henry Armstrong, who knocked young Aaron out in seven rounds. It was this terrible pasting at the hands of Armstrong, according to denizens of Jacobs' beach, which ruined Perry. At any rate, content with all this, Garsh matched Perry for a return with Angott and Sammy had an easy time in winning again.

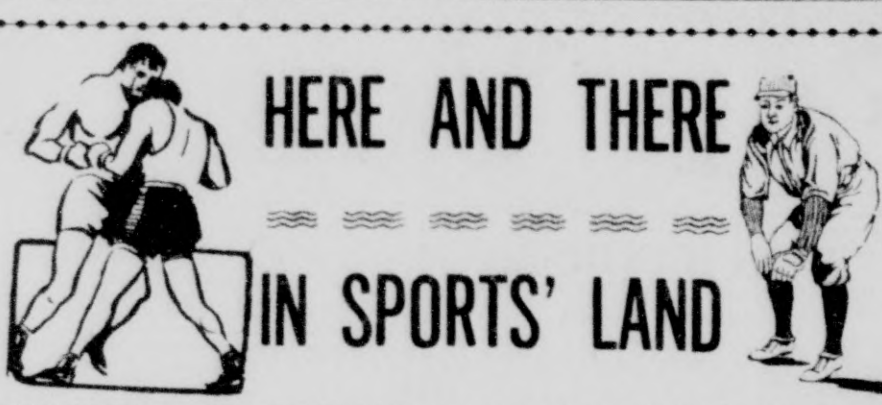

Never properly coached in defense against body attack, and with three discouraging defeats under his belt, Perry made his Garden debut as a main-eventer against a belligerent with experience and took some awful punching around.

There is only one thing wrong with Perry and his initials are Harry Garsh.

NO EXCUSE FOR DELAY
VANCOUVER, B. C.—(INS)—Up-held by the Alberta appeal court was the ruling of Justice C. C. McLaurin in the case of Edmund Ralph Shaw vs. Sarah Jane Shaw, his wife. Shaw was denied a divorce decree because he waited 17 years to state proceedings with "no reasonable excuse for the delay."

Although the Cherokee Indian boundary in North Carolina is a private corporation chartered by the State of North Carolina, recent federal court decisions classify it as a reservation in the same sense as lands granted to western tribes.

In Alaska the minerals produced are worth more than a hundred times the price the United States paid for the Territory.

GUS SONNENBERG, ex-grunt and grid star, who once grappled in the Arena is in a Maryland Naval hospital. He has been a physical instructor and is ill but he isn't so sick that he doesn't realize what's going on Here and There in Sports' Land. He wants to take his favorite sport, wrestling, away from mugs and give it back to the athletes. Sonnenberg holds no brief for the current crop of matches between freaks, monstrosities, chalcidians and—but not in the same category—women. In an interview at Bethesda, Md., the All-American football player and maestro of the mat he asserted:

"I can't see lady wrestlers at all," he says. "For one thing it isn't wrestling and for another I don't see how they take those falls. It's no picnic to get tossed out of the ring on hard wood and then get bounced right back in again."

"I used to wrestle on the level. I open up the game by introducing the flying tackle. I played it catch-as-catch-can because the people liked it that way to the tune of three million dollars in four years."

His toughest opponents, he recalls, were spectators.

"Women are particularly bloodthirsty," he says. "I've seen them jab big hips into wrestlers who weren't doing enough bone-cracking. The viddy, viddy social women were the noisiest and the most vicious."

Sonnenberg's preparation for a career as a mauler included a degree from Dartmouth and a law degree taken in Detroit.

Gus is full of hope for wrestling despite its current decline. It's his hit the bottom now but it will start to come up again soon," he predicts. "Wrestling after all is the world's oldest sport and a scientific sport based on weight and leverage. All the good athletes are in the service right now but you'll be hearing of them again."

Seidom does Monk Rainey take a real lacing but he most assuredly received one from the I. A. M. When Elz Rodenbaugh heard the news he gulped and then smiled, said little being sufficiently bright to illuminate the Moose hall. Sammy Bullano is said to be one of the best looking youngsters hereabouts. S-S-Sa. Frank Moran, wounded in France, is now a patient in an Atlantic City hospital. One of the best ball players of yesterday was Ike Blomdi. He played every berth the I. A. A.'s had except behind the bat. He's with the United Engineering now. Joe is now a technical sergeant in Texas (and who was in World War I) was one of the greatest infielders hereabouts.

Cy Butler, sports editor, Alliance Review, requests we tell the young ball players Here and There that they may attend a try-out camp September 1, 2 and 3 at Alliance, O. The New York Giants is conducting the camp. Three scouts, including Marty Purtell and Gordon Maguire, will be in charge. The invitation does not apply to American Legion players who are yet eligible for American Legion competition. Tom McMahon, the Bearcat of decades ago, was a visitor here recently. Phil Bridenbaugh has a real job out on this fall. Without a regular left he must build a winner. The 11 train at Muddy Creek Falls. First Sgt. Morton Suber, the local light-heavyweight wrestler, is in France with the A. A. A. There's a chance of him seeing some of our New Castle boys. He has the same APO.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Staff Editor)

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(INS)—

At a time when interest in sports is purported to be at ebb tide, Frank G. Menke, analyst of professional and amateur athletics, has produced an encyclopedia of sports. It is unique in that it is the only one of its kind in the world. It represents a game and an accomplishment, simultaneously, and to a fine degree.

Just as boxing is in need of a historian on the type of Nat Fleischer, who is hard-working, thorough and informed, so all sports need a Menke. The long hours of intensive research which have gone into the making of this book at once strike the eye in the form of the greatest array of figures and statistics the game probably has ever seen.

The encyclopedia of sports covers every phase of Athletics except indoor yacht racing and underground balloon trials. The origin, development and refinement of the various sports all have a place in Menke's book. Having consulted over 2,000 books on sports and games, Menke's overall knowledge of Athletics, when pressed into his encyclopedia, is staggering. I cannot think of anyone else who can readily inform me of the ins and outs of birling, draughts, codeball, gliding and soaring, and roque.

Fact, figures, ciphers, explanatory notes and illustrations follow one upon the other with swiftness. Did you know, for instance, that America spent four billion dollars on sports in 1938? And that the on sports in 1938? And that the expenditures incurred in pursuit of their sport—something like $1,200,000? Just think of that—$1,200,000 worth of poles, hooks and worms! To give you an idea of the uncommon quality of Menke's book, this is an excerpt from Frank's dissertation on major league baseball: "A rather astonishing development in what is known as 'America's national pastime'" writes Menke. "Is that the present ruling power in the sport was misled relative to the origin and development of baseball and seized upon the wrong date, the wrong place and the wrong man for bestowal of honors."

"This came about because they have accepted as accuracy itself a report made in 1907 by A. G. Mills because of this document, baseball originated in 1839. It first was played in Cooperstown, N. Y., and (3) Abner Doubleday was the creator."

Ellwood Eagles Have Fine Team

Ellwood City Eagles Seek To Arrange Series For County Honors

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Aug. 24.—Ellwood City Eagles softball team, one of the best in the Beaver valley and champions of Ellwood City, would like to arrange a five-game series for the Lawrence county championship with the champions of the New Castle Industrial league.

The Ellwood Eagles can be contacted by writing to Manager Frank Poholsky, care of P. O. E. 1246 Erie Ellwood City, or phone 518-R1.

The roster of the Eagles is composed of such stars as Ed Gallagher, whose pitching prowess is well known over the entire county; Marty "Red" Tomic, the peer of second-sackers in the valley; along with Dallenbach, Lucas, Austin, Davidson, Ferrante, Biego, Nastas, Latshaw, Migut and Tritt. These boys pack plenty of power at bat.

CAMPFIRE CORNER

HOOK-AND-LINE WHITEFISH

Whitefish are one of our familiar food fishes, particularly in the Great Lakes region, but few and far between are the spots where they have made a bid for game fish rating, and even in those places no one claims they could by any stretch of the imagination be placed in the same category as trout, bass or any of our other hook-and-line quarry.

They are game fish only in the sense that they will take bait when it is properly served. I was on a trip a few days ago to a northern lake where angling for this A-1 food fish is practiced all summer long, usually with satisfactory results in the way of captives that range from a pound to four pounds in weight and are tops in eating. It is one of the few places I know of where such fishing is done consistently.

They Use Seine

In some lakes where whitefish are known to flourish the natives will shake their heads at the suggestion of catching whitefish by any other method than with a seine, though chances are they'd bite as readily there as in the lake which I visited.

I am speaking of true whitefish, not discus, lake herring or tullibees, all of which belong to the whitefish family and have many traits in common. There's some question, however, about whether the kind of fish I caught are the true Lake Superior whitefish.

They are probably a sub-species, but they so closely resemble the Lake Superior common, or Labrador species that scientists haven't as yet made up their minds.

The War Food Administration's Office of labor plans to bring into this country from Jamaica between 12,000 to 13,000 workers to relieve critical farm labor shortages this summer. Last year, 8826 workers were brought in from the same British West Indies colony.

SAYS:

"YOUR GROCER KEEPS THE FAITH"

"EVEN under the most difficult wartime food conditions, your grocer carries on. He keeps the faith by continuing to serve you honestly and well. It's not peacetime service, of course. You don't expect that these days. But it's mighty helpful, just the same. And when you have a food problem, your grocer is always ready to help you solve it."

"Bell Enriched White Bread can help solve your food problems, too. Use this delicious bread for sandwiches and toast—in main-course dishes and desserts. It's just as good in meals as with meals. Get a loaf from your neighborhood grocer today."

Three Waste Paper Stations Set Up In Union Township

Residents of Union township are asked to take their bundles of sorted and tied waste paper for the waste paper drive, to one of three collection centers in the township, before Saturday morning.

The three Union township depots for collecting waste paper are: the garage of John C. Carr, W. Washington street, the tool house on the Youngstown road, both of which will be open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. today and Friday; and the garage back of Union high school which will be open from 1 to 3 o'clock this afternoon and Friday afternoon.

Contributors of paper are asked to tie paper in one bundle, magazines in another, and cardboard and corrugated paper also separately, in bundles of not over 15 pounds.

GOOD NEWS

CARBONDALE, Pa. — (INS) — A picture on a newspaper purchased by Frank L. Gill, formerly of Carbondale, was his first notification that his son, Raymond, had been wounded in action. Later a letter from the young naval enlistee assured his father that he had been only slightly injured.

Construction of 100,000 houses has been planned for the first post-war year in Great Britain and another 200,000 will be built by the end of the second year.

More Aid Needed For Collection Of Paper Saturday

If you have already bundled up your old newspapers and magazines, don't bother to read this. You know what to do. But if you haven't, you might as well keep on reading.

First of all, Saturday, August 26, is Waste Paper Collection Day. The Salvage Committee wants to collect every pound of waste paper, newspapers, magazines and cardboard in the city and the adjoining townships. The paper is vitally needed for the war effort. Containers for blood plasma, cartridges, foodstuffs, hundreds of uses for paper products and paper is shorter than Hitler's time.

Needs Trucks And Drivers

J. Fred Clarke, president of the Lawrence County chapter, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association said today the salvage committee could use more trucks and volunteer drivers. Any one caring to help in the collection of waste paper by volunteering either a truck or as a driver or both is asked to call Mr. Clarke at 2756 up to 6 o'clock and 1905 after that.

Joseph Hartman is the collection chairman and said today that plans were completed for the collection on Saturday. He stressed the urgency of paper, asked that newspapers be bundled separately, magazines the same and cardboard the same.

Householders are asked to have their bundled paper, each bundle to weigh not more than 15 pounds, on the curb before 12 o'clock noon Saturday. If the day is wet put it on a protected porch where the weather will not harm it.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will accompany the trucks and a detachment of men from Deshon General Hospital Annex will ride the trucks Saturday afternoon.

The net proceeds from the collection will go to the Boy and Girl Scout troops.

Get your paper ready, have it on the curb Saturday morning.

Israel's First King
Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Samuel anointing Saul.

"Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king."
—1 Peter 2:17.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 27 is 1 Samuel 9, 10, 11. The Golden Text being 1 Peter 2:17, "Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king.")

The chapter before the one assigned to our lesson today tells of the people's dissatisfaction with Samuel because he was old and because, too, his sons, like those of Eli, were not good men like their father. They demanded a king.

There was a man of the tribe of Benjamin whose name was Kish, and he had a son named Saul. Kish's asses were lost, and he sent his son with a servant to find and bring them home. They searched for three days and not finding them, Saul thought they should go home as his father would worry about him, but the servant said they should go to the nearby city and consult a seer or prophet named Samuel who knew everything.

The Lord Informs Samuel

The Lord told Samuel that this young man would come to him and that he was the man who would be made king of the Israelites. Saul apparently had not known of Samuel. Samuel came out to go to "the high place," and Saul asked him where he would find the seer. Samuel said he was he, and told Saul to come up with him that night and on the morrow he would tell him all that was in his heart.

Saul was treated as an honored guest and Samuel told him that "the desire of Israel" was on him. Saul humbly said, "Am I not a Benjaminite of the smallest of the tribes of Israel? and my family the least of all the families of the tribe of Benjamin? wherefore then speakest thou so to me?"

Next morning Samuel told Saul to send his servant on ahead, and Samuel took a vial of oil and poured it upon Saul's head and kissed him, and said, "Is it not because the Lord hath anointed thee to be captain over his inheritance?" On his way home, said Samuel, he would find two men by Rachel's sepulchre, and they would tell him the asses had been found and his father was sorrowing for his son. He should go on and at the plain of Tabor he would meet three men going up to God at Bethel, one carrying three kids and another three loaves of bread, and the third a bottle of wine.

These men would salute him and give him two loaves of the bread and Saul should continue to the "hill of God," where he would meet a company of prophets. The prophets would prophesy and the spirit of God would descend upon Saul and he too would prophesy. Thus would Saul know that God was with him.

Home Folk Skeptical

All this came to pass as Samuel had said, but the people of his part of the country who had known him said, "Is Saul among the prophets?" Samuel then called the children of Israel together and told them that the Lord said they had rejected Him because they wanted a king, but he was going to give them one. When they were all gathered together according to tribes, he chose the tribe of Benjamin and asked for Saul. They found him hiding. He was a fine young man, taller and handsomer than any other, and Samuel said, "See ye whom the Lord hath chosen, that there is none like him among all the people?" And all the people shouted, "God save the king."

Saul then went home and with him men whose hearts God had touched, but some there were who said, "How shall this man save us?" and they despised him and brought him no presents.

The Philistines began to harass the Israelites at this time, and messengers came to Saul to tell him of their threats; and the people lifted up their voices and wept. Saul came out of the field and said, "What aileth the people that they weep?" They told him, and the Spirit of God came upon him and he was very angry. He took a yoke of oxen, hewed them in pieces and sent the pieces among all the tribes, telling them he would slay their oxen, too, if they did not come out to him and Samuel. Three hundred thousand men of Israel came out and 10,000 men of Judah. Saul put them in three companies and they slew the Ammonites.

The people said, "Saul shall reign over us," and they wanted to kill the men who had not believed in him. Saul would not do this, however. "There shall not a man be put to death this day," he said, "for today the Lord hath wrought salvation in Israel!"

Then Samuel said, "Come, let us go to Gilgal, and renew the kingdom there." And all the people went and they made Saul king and they sacrificed peace offerings before the Lord.

Engineers' Society Plans Annual Picnic

Mahoning-Shenango Valley Engineers' society is planning the organization's annual picnic for Saturday, August 26, at American Beach, according to Harry McFeaters, president.

The picnic, to which each member is to bring a guest, will last all afternoon and evening. A full program of sports has been worked out, with prizes for the winners. Instead of a supper being served, refreshments will be "continuous," in true picnic style.

Chairman of the various committees are: sports, Tom Baum; food, Joe Laskey; refreshments, Russell Forney; and prizes, Numa Vidal.

First fall meeting of the society will be a dinner at The Castleton, in charge of Ed Davenport. The date had been set for Monday evening, September 11, at 7 o'clock.

Jap, Two Marines Use Same Foxhole

SAIPAN, Marianas Islands. — (INS) — Marine Sgt. William Wilkinson, 21, of Floral Park, L. I., and a buddy, sharing a foxhole at the front, were plenty mad over who was pulling whose leg and interrupting much-needed sleep.

Came daylight and they discovered the cause of their argument — a bedraggled Jap soldier buried in a nearby hole up to his neck. The Jap had been eager to surrender, but each time he touched one to draw attention, the ensuing oral fireworks frightened him back into his hole. He made a willing prisoner.

Before joining the service Wilkinson was a salesman in New York City. He is a member of the Fourth Marine Division.

ELEVEN NEW CASES
HARRISBURG, Aug. 24. — (INS) — Secretary of Health A. H. Stewart said today that 11 cases of infantile paralysis were reported during the past 24 hours, boosting the total in Pennsylvania since January 1 to 491.

He listed cases in 48 of the state's 67 counties and said 100 cases were reported in Allegheny county, 81 in Tioga county and 77 in Philadelphia. The balance was spread over the other affected counties.

DIVORCES SET RECORD
UNIONTOWN, Pa. — (INS) — Fayette county divorces hit an all time high for July. The courthouse at Uniontown reported 31 divorces for the month, the largest number yet obtained.

Faulty Addresses Delay Navy Letters

WITH U. S. PACIFIC FLEET — (INS) — "Make the address legible," is the principal advice offered to persons back home who write to men in the Navy.

Lt. Cmdr. Earle D. Chance, Pacific fleet postal officer, said today that faulty addresses cause Navy mail clerks their biggest headache and result sometimes in delaying the delivery of letters.

"And when writing to fellows who have popular names, such as Smith," he added, "it would be advisable to use the man's service number. There are 11,000 Smiths in the Navy."
